MINUTES OF ANNUAL MEETING HELD SATURDAY, APRIL 20, 1929, AT MISSION MEMORIAL HALL

Business Meeting

This session was called to order at 2:30 p. m. by the President, Mrs. Rosamond S. Morgan, who read her report, as the first matter of business. This is found in full elsewhere. Mr. W. W. Chamberlain moved that the President's report be accepted and that a special vote of thanks be given to her for her splendid service to the Society during the past two years.

The Treasurer, Mr. Chamberlain, then presented an abbreviated report, the full report to be printed in this annual. Attention was called to the merging during the past year of the Centennial and Maintenance Funds, for the sake of simplifying the bookkeeping. (The Centennial Fund was a holdover of the funds raised in 1920 for the Mission Centennial celebration of that year and is now obsolete.) The Treasurer recommended further simplification by merging the Missionary and Maintenance Funds. The report was accepted, Miss Agnes Judd moving "a vote of thanks to the Treasurer for his untiring work in behalf of the Society." Carried.

Mr. Chamberlain moved that the action taken at this meeting regarding finances of the Society be accepted and left to the judgment of the President and Board of Managers. Seconded and carried.

In the proposed budget for 1929-30 is the usual item of $100 to the Aintab Mission. The Treasurer raised the question of continuing this donation, or spending it here for educational work. Miss Agnes Judd explained that this donation originated many years ago when one of the members of the Society, Mrs. Fanny Andrews Shepard, was a missionary in Turkey. She is now dead, but her son, Dr. Lorrin Andrews Shepard, is carrying on at Constantinople, Turkey. Miss Judd moved "that the same amount be continued for mission work in Turkey, preferably for the work of Dr. Lorrin Shepard." Carried.

The estimated budget of expenses for the year 1929-1930 as read by the Treasurer, was approved.

The report of the Nominating Committee was read by the secretary in the absence of the chairman, Theodore A. Cooke. Following are the recommendations for officers for the ensuing year:

Mr. H. Harvey Hitchcock.....President
Mrs. F. E. Midkiff.....Vice-President
Mr. W. W. Chamberlain.....Treasurer
Miss Harriet G. Forbes.....Secretary
Miss Agnes Judd .....Recorder
Mr. Bernard H. Damon.....Auditor

In the absence of other nominations from the floor, the recommendation of the Committee was accepted, and the persons named declared elected to office.

The business session then closed and there was a social interval when members were asked to step to the front and inspect the Gulick coins displayed for sale.

Commemorative Meeting

At 3 p. m. this meeting was called to order and opened in the usual way by the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," with Mrs. Caroline (Castle) Westervelt at the piano. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. D. Westervelt.

The following resolution to the memory of William Owen Smith was read by C. Dudley Pratt and accepted by a rising vote:

"WHEREAS, in the providence of God, our Cousin, William Owen Smith, was called from our midst just one week ago; and

"WHEREAS, he was a charter member of this Society; served one term as its President; three terms as its Vice-President, and eight terms as a member of its Board of Managers, and has at all times been generous and untiring in the interests of the Society;

"BE IT RESOLVED, that the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society has suffered a great loss, and assembled today at this seventy-seventh annual meeting, we record this expression of our loss and place our maile wreath of aloha around the memory of one who has done so much for the Hawaiian people, the community at large and this Society in particular.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the deep sympathy of the 'Cousins' be extended to his wife and family.

"Honolulu, April 20, 1929."

The Makiki Heights Orchestra then favored the audience with the following selections and an encore: "America the Beautiful," "Midsummer Night's Dream," "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," "Quiet, Lovely Night," "Morris Dance."

This orchestra is composed of young "Cousins" from three Judd families and one Cooke family, trained by their aunt, Mrs. James R. Judd. The performance was heartily encored.

A sketch of the life of Thomas L. Gulick was read by Miss Dorothy Judd. (Printed elsewhere.)

Mrs. Morgan explained that the Gulick coins had been donated to the Cousin's Society two years ago by Cousin Julia A. E. Gulick, for the Society to do with as seemed best; that it had been proposed to send the collection to New York to be sold, but finally decided to let the Cousins here have the opportunity of owning the coins, the money so raised to go towards our missionary work.

The sale of the coins, which had been extensively advertised in the islands, then began, with Cousin J. P. G. Morgan in charge, assisted by the Treasurer and the Assistant Treasurer. The younger members of the Society were specially keen bidders. Much credit for the success of the sale is due to the skillful handling by Mr. Morgan.

After four o'clock there was a halt in the sale, and the roll call was announced. This resulted as follows: Judds, 27; Chamberlains, 11; Cookes, 9; Binghams, Bishops, Halls, 6 each; Dimonds, 5; Alexanders, Baldwins, Lymans, Doles, Rowells, Forbes, 4 each; Lowell Smiths and Rices, 3 each; Bonds, Damons, J. W. Smiths, Hitchcocks, Andrews and Clarks, 2 each; Gulick, Emerson, Lyons, Bailey and Castle, 1 each. Also 15 consorts. The attendance was much smaller than usual.

The collection was taken just before the roll call and amounted to $45.79.

At the conclusion of the roll call the "fans" gathered around the coin table and the sale was resumed, while Cousin Will Damon and his wife were the center of attraction in another part of the room. The meeting broke up without the parting hymn.

The amount realized from the coin sale was $82.70.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT FOR YEAR 1928-1929

During the past year the Board of Managers of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society has held four meetings, at which were transacted the necessary business.

The proper care of the buildings is of great importance, and we found it necessary to have the blinds and window casings of the Chamberlain House repainted, a number of broken panes renewed, and also hooks put on the blinds to hold them open. This last addition has been a great convenience.

The balcony of the Old Frame House was falling to pieces, so that was repaired, though it is still unsafe to walk on. The general condition of the Old House is rapidly getting worse and requires necessary repairs. During the past year several plans regarding its future have been discussed, but nothing definite decided on.

It is with great regret that I have to tell you that George R. Carter has resigned from the chairmanship of the Library Committee. He gave his very valuable collection of books on the Hawaiian Islands to the Society in 1922, as well as a fund for its maintenance, and has been the chairman ever since.

The increased work in the library, as well as that of the other branches of the Society, has made it necessary to employ one more person, and we have been fortunate enough to secure the services of Mrs. A. L. Silverman, who was Violet Austin. She is filling a position which combines work in the library and for the Society otherwise.

Miss Bernice Judd, at the request of Mr. George Carter, has prepared and written during the year a pamphlet entitled "Voyages to Hawaii Before 1860," the expenses for which were met from the Library Fund. This is now on sale at $2.00 a copy. Also, at Mr. Carter's suggestion, a complimentary copy of this pamphlet was sent to the members of the Legislature, as this Society is exempt from taxes because it maintains a public museum and library.

The Society has supported three girls at Maunaolu Seminary, on Maui, and has given $75 towards the support of a girl at Kawaiahao Seminary (Mid-Pacific Institute), this island.

We have added forty new life members during the April-to-April year and four more have made the initial payments towards membership.

It is with sorrow that I announce twenty-two deaths within our circle during the past year.

I have greatly enjoyed the work and activities of the Society during the last two years, and I wish to thank all the other officers for their assistance and express to them my appreciation of their excellent work.

ROSAMOND SWANZY MORGAN,
President.

THOMAS LAFON GULICK

Thomas Lafon Gulick, whose collection of coins is to be sold this afternoon, was the youngest of the seven boys in the family of Rev. and Mrs. Peter J. Gulick, early missionaries to these islands. Thomas was born at Koloa, Kauai, April 10, 1839, and if living today, would be ninety years old. He was named for the family physician, Dr. Thomas Lafon.

When Tom was a little boy he was bold and fearless and consequently often in trouble. One day while playing with pebbles he got one into his ear. The family lived on Molokai at that time. As the pebble could not be extracted by his parents and as there was no doctor on the island, Tom's father started with him in a canoe to go to Lahaina where the nearest doctor lived. Crossing the channel, the canoe was upset and split and they were all thrown into the water. The sea was rough and Tom was repeatedly washed off the canoe which they were trying to cling to, but after several anxious hours the little company was picked up, landed at Lahaina and the pebble removed from the boy's ear.

As a child Thomas had a great thirst for knowledge. Whatever subject he studied he tried to understand thoroughly. This thirst for knowledge was stimulated by President E. G. Beckwith when as a youth he attended Punahou School, then known as Oahu College. Tom's friend and chum at Punahou was Samuel T. Alexander, for whom the Punahou Athletic Field of today is named. This friendship was lifelong.

After leaving Punahou, Thomas Gulick became a clerk in the Honolulu Post Office. With his earnings there and what he saved otherwise, he paid his way through Williams College. Later he went to Union Theological Seminary and prepared to be a missionary, like all his brothers.

As a mission worker, he was sent first to Spain where his brother William was located. It was during his eight or nine years' residence in Spain that he collected most of these coins which show his knowledge of history and good judgment. After leaving Spain, because of ill health, he lived for a time in New Mexico.

Later Mr. Gulick returned to these islands and became the pastor of the Makawao Foreign Church, on Maui, where he lived for six years. During these years the Punahou Jubilee of 1891 was held, at which Mr. Gulick was an enthusiastic guest and speaker. He is said to have proposed the first cement swimming tank at Punahou, which was built about 1888, in Mr. Merritt's time.

Mr. Gulick loved to travel. In later life he accepted the invitation of his boyhood friend, Samuel Alexander, to go around the world and then explore "Darkest Africa." This was in 1904. The two companions had a grand time together, but neither returned. Mr. Gulick succumbed to a fever in Mombasa, and four months later his friend Mr. Alexander lost his life at Victoria Falls, Africa, so that the final resting place of both is on that continent.

W. W. CHAMBERLAIN,
Treasurer.

Honolulu, Feb. 15, 1929.

Honolulu, T. H., April 18, 1929.—I have audited the accounts kept by the Treasurer of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society for the year ended December 31, 1928, and have to report to the Members of the Society that I have obtained all of the information and explanations that I require. In my opinion, the statement of Assets and Liabilities shown is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the Society's affairs, according to the best of my information and the explanations given to me and as shown by the books of the Society.

(Signed) B. M. DAMON, Auditor

Hawaiian Mission Children's Society.

A SUGGESTION FOR MUSIC-LOVERS

Two years ago Cousin Caroline H. Bailey, of Los Gatos, Calif., wrote, "Mother and I were just saying we wished that phonograph records of some of the best-known hymns in the Buke Himeni Hawaii might be made by some of the older Cousins, or one of the old-time Hawaiian congregations, if there is one. I think the far-scattered Cousins would love to get them. Some of the Hawaiian records are lovely, but so many are Broadway-made! 'There is a Fountain,' is one in which the Hawaiian words and the tune seem to be made for one another. Before long we fear the old-time atmosphere will be gone and we would love to have a part of it recorded in this way. We wish it might be suggested at one of the Cousins' meetings."

Your Secretary took this matter up with members of the Hawaiian Board after receipt of above letter, to see if such a thing might be possible. The answer was that, at that time there was no equipment in these islands for recording music and it was therefore out of the question.

Cousin Caroline has now written of the matter again, and we are broadcasting it in this way. Will any of the Cousins take this matter up?

We understand that the making of musical records in Hawaii is now possible. Who will take the matter up?

PROTEGES

Rhoda Ke, our part-protege in the girls' department of the Mid-Pacific Institute, has done very good work during the past school year. She has been taking bookkeeping and typewriting, and hopes to continue and finish the high school course. She is also interested in nursing, having had some practical experience in that line this year at the school.

At the beginning of the 1928 school year, our Society had but one protege at Maunaolu Seminary, Maui, namely, Grace Papalimu of Molokai. Miss Nance, however, discovered two needy Hawaiian girls at Lahaina whom she placed in the school at our expense. These were Esther Kaleialoha, five years old, and Caroline Kukahiko, of the same age. It is rather an uncertainty when such young girls are taken and not much is expected of them for the first year or two. Miss Nance, the Principal, considers both girls promising. Grace Papalimu began the year well and was reported as "developing into a splendid girl." However, later accounts are not so encouraging and we are not sure that she will return for the next school year.

PUNAHOU SCHOOL

The resignation of President Arthur A. Hauck, while away on sabbatical leave, was announced in January of this year, and received with genuine regret. Mr. Hauck had been in charge at Punahou School for seven years and has seen many great improvements made during that time. Mr. Roger T. Twitchell, of Milton Academy, Milton, Mass., has been acting president during the past year, but is not in position to accept the permanent presidency. However, another Milton Academy man, Mr. Oscar F. Shepard, has been appointed and will begin his duties with the new school year 1929.

GIFTS OR LOANS

We have received during the last year a book, booklet, pamphlet, and papers for our Library; also photographs.

Of relics in other form, we wish to mention in particular:

1928

May 7. Glass Paper Weight with inblown designs of beautiful shapes and colors. Brought from England about 1850 by the mother of Mrs. Curtis J. Lyons and used in the Lyons family.

Sample of a "Freedom Dress" worn by Mary Richards in 1783, at eighteen years of age. Mary Richards later became the mother of Lorenzo Lyons, the missionary to these islands. Both these relics given by Mrs. Emma Lyons Doyle.

June 28. Chelsea Chinaware (blue and white), which formerly belonged to Mrs. Levi Chamberlain. From Mrs. Helen Chamberlain Aiken.

Aug. 10. Certificate, showing early engraving of first Kawaiahao Church and Mission buildings. The following wording at bottom: "This certifies that Mr. Lysander Rice, by diligence and good behavior, merits the approbation of his friends and instructress. (Sgd.) Olive Hancock, Jan., 1825. Blanks, school-tickets, etc., of various kinds for sale at the Oracle Office, Northampton." From Mr. James T. Phillips.

14. Silk Dress, dark brown, all heavily lined. Given in 1845 by Mrs. Richard Armstrong to the mother of her future son-in-law. From Mrs. Millie Beckwith Hair.

22. Cup and Saucer, large, of cream color with gilt initial "J". The personal cup of Laura Fish Judd. Loaned by Albert F. Judd.

Sept. 5. Baby Dress, flowing, finely embroidered. Made by Mrs. Laura Fish Judd about 1829. Used as a christening robe for several of her children. Loaned by Mrs. Albert F. Judd.

Nov. 14. Dishes (3), from the old Green home at Makawao, Maui. Probably used by Mrs. Theodosia Green. From Laura C. Green.

Mar. 21. Coffee Pot. Probably of pewter, silvered over. Belonged to and used individually by Dr. G. P. Judd. From Helen K. Wilder.

Of the photographs, the most interesting is that of an old drawing of Honolulu Harbor in 1821. This was sent to Mr. George R. Carter by the Mass. Historical Society, and given by Mr. Carter to the H. M. C. Society.

THE ROLL-CALL OF COUSINS

ALEXANDER (W. P.) Arthur C. Alexander and his wife Mary (Hillebrand) Alexander were present at the graduation of their daughter Mary Douglas from Vassar College in June of 1928. Mary returned with her father in late summer and has busied herself during the year in social service work. Mrs. Alexander tarried longer on the mainland and visited her sister, Mrs. Helen (Hillebrand) Dalton, in Seattle on the way back.

Dr. Edgar W. Alexander, of Mountain View, Calif., (whose father was Rev. James M. Alexander), with his wife and two children visited his brother, Frank A. Alexander, at Eleele, Kauai, last summer. Their visit was shortened because of the illness of their mother who lives in Oakland, Calif. Mrs. Edgar Alexander finds our island climate beneficial and returned in January of this year with their son Gordon who was convalescing from pneumonia, and spent several weeks at Waikiki.

In May of last year, Wallace M. Alexander, of San Francisco, Calif., was elected a director of the United States Chamber of Commerce. He has been asked to represent Hawaii this year at the annual meeting of the national organization in Washington. On November 22, 1928, Cousin Wallace, as President of Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd., delivered the address at the cornerstone laying of the firm's new building in Honolulu. His father, Samuel T. Alexander, was the senior partner of the firm in its infancy, and it was appropriate that Cousin Wallace should tell its history on that occasion.

Annie M. Alexander sends us her Oakland address for our roster.

Lyle A. Dickey, of Lihue, Kauai, our former treasurer, is the author of a bulletin published by the Bernice P. Bishop Museum in 1928 on "String Figures From Hawaii." This explains how to make 115 Hawaiian catscradle figures, 18 slip-tricks and 8 New Hebrides string figures, the last learned from natives from those islands living in Hawaii. Cousin Lyle's P. O. Box number has been changed.

James D. Dole, Jr., second son of Belle (Dickey) Dole, who was attending school in California, returned last summer and has continued his studies at Punahou during this school year.

ANDREWS, C. B. A letter from Miss Lucy C. Andrews to our Recorder, Agnes E. Judd, was received in January of this year, giving some early history, and telling of the second marriage of her father, Rev. Claudius B. Andrews, at Honolulu, in 1865, to Samantha Gilson, a sister of the first Mrs. Andrews. Miss Andrews says: "My mother's sister came from her home in Vermont by steamer to Panama, which was then crossed by rail, thence by steamer to San Francisco, then by another to Honolulu where she arrived in the forenoon, and became the guest of the Bates family. Mr. Bates was a lawyer and married into the Judd family (Mrs. Bates was Miss Elizabeth Judd, a sister of Dr. G. P. Judd). She (Mrs. Bates) was an elegant woman. Her sister ('Aunt Hattie' Judd) lived with her, was a cripple and a very close friend of Samantha Gilson. The ceremony took place in the afternoon of the day that she landed, in the home of Mrs. Bates. This house seemed palatial to my young mind. It was the next one to the Dr. Judd home and had a wonderful avenue of palms extending from the house to the street. (This was on the corner of Nuuanu Ave. and Bates Street, the present Honolulu residence of Cousin Samuel A. Baldwin). I went around the island of Oahu in company with Dr. Judd and Miss Bingham, who became the second Mrs. Coan."

Cousin Lucy Andrews lives in Melrose, Mass., and is a sister of Mrs. Fannie Andrews Shepard, who was for thirty years a missionary in Turkey, and whose name is so well known to our Society. We are very glad to get into touch with her again, as it is several years since the Society has heard from this Cousin.

ANDREWS (L.) Mrs. Maggie Hardy Dean, of Berkeley, Cal., tells briefly of her family. Alice is teaching and her three boys, John, Dean and Robert Hoskins are in school. John and Dean are in the High School and "Bobbie" will be in High next year. Each of the older boys has an auto and Dean drives his mother and Bobbie to school in the mornings. John is a born mechanic and is quite musical. He goes to school but a few hours a week and works at a garage the rest of the time. He plays on the trombone very well and can put a radio together—a radio that works. He is installing one now on his auto.

Will Dean and family are now well, though the children, Barbara, aged six years, and little Daniel Dean, born Sept. 22nd, 1928, are just recovering from whooping-cough. Will Dean is in the employ of the Spring Valley Water Co. He comes home Saturday evenings and goes back to the ranches at Sunol and San Mateo on Monday mornings.

Carl B. Andrews, Professor of Civil Engineering in the College of Applied Science in the University of Hawaii, has given a Thursday evening course of lectures throughout the year on Soil Mechanics. This is in line with his nine months' study last year at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at Cambridge, Mass., where he received his M. S. degree.

Laura Ann Andrews has been Acting Regent of Aloha Chapter of D. A. R. since April. She is also active in the American Association of University Women, American Legion Auxiliary, Central Union Church and the Women's Faculty Club of the University of Hawaii. While in Boston last year she spent much time in tracing out genealogies.

Carl B. and Laura Ann brought Laura's niece, Jane Glenn, home with them last August to attend the University of Hawaii, entering as a Freshman. She will continue her course here next year after a summer spent in Eureka, Calif., with her family. They also brought Jack Bowers, Carl's cousin's son, who entered Punahou as a Freshman, using the R. S. Andrews scholarship.

Mrs. William Andrews and daughter, Ethel, who spent last year at Los Angeles, have been spending the winter with the Fernows at Clemson, S. Carolina. Ethel Constance Fernow is attending St. Mary's School at Raleigh, N. Carolina. They found the college town very quiet, and for city-bred folks lonely, but it brought them rest and for a time improved health. But they have moved on to New York, and at the earnest request of her younger son, Thomas H. S. Andrews, they have come as welcome guests into his large, new, well-heated house at No. 5, Sage Terrace, Scarsdale, with its beautiful outlook and refreshing breezes. The trip of only 2 hours from Clemson, though with every comfort available, was a hard one, but the welcome from Tom's charming wife, Mary, and the presence of little William and baby Craig will soon make them cease to feel "so very tired."

Lorrin Andrews of Los Angeles surprised his Honolulu friends by making a short business visit in February. He and his wife were lonely without his mother and sister in Los Angeles. Lorrin Andrews, Jr., only makes occasional visits from the mountains to his father's home.

Miss Mabel H. Andrews has been trying hard to teach the people of the East to eat ripe olives, as the Westerners do. She is a member of the Authors' League and helps in their Bundle Shop when she can, and writes poetry, advertising articles, etc. One of her poems, "The Battle of Life," was broadcast on Decoration Day, 1928. To the annual party of the Authors' League she took her young niece, Adele Burcher, who was greatly thrilled by meeting so many great authors and illustrators.

The Burchers (Evelyn Andrews) and family, have also built a new home with a beautiful outlook at Scarsdale, near enough to the City for Billy to drive with a friend to Columbia College and home every day. His sister Adele is a senior at High School and she and her mother enjoy specially the art department.

Mary Ellen Nott—"Aunt Mary," to all who know her well—was quite ill in the summer of 1928. Her oldest daughter, Anne Brigman, left her home in Oakland and came to her in a cottage on the beach, camping near by, and being a tower of strength and comfort all through those anxious days.

Mary A. Nott, of "Hotel Claremont," Berkeley, was also ill with "flu" last summer, but is back among her music pupils this year.

Willard M., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Weaver Nott, motored with some friends from Waco, Texas, and spent a few days with his grandmother. Since the death of his fine, promising elder brother, William Weaver Nott, II, at Waco, Texas on May 18, 1926, Willard has been studying and working hard, turning his hand to anything honest that will help him on his way through college.

Aunt Mary's nephew, Will Hardy, sent her from Honolulu last year some poha seeds that grew so luxuriantly that she has distributed seeds, plants and fruit to friends far and near.

A late letter from Mrs. Nott tells that Elizabeth (Nott) Hough, and Walter, her husband, are comfortably located at Davenport, Iowa.

Shortly before Mother's Day, Aunt Mary's youngest son, Lorrin Nott, with Sarah Nott Moore's step-son, Raymond Moore, flew from San Francisco to Long Beach, circled around the mother's home, landed in the city, took dinner with Mother Nott and family in the beautiful pergola, with its stage setting of gay flowers, and then returned to San Francisco. After the excitement of the day Aunt Mary took her little radio and quietly listened to a good sermon. This at the age of 85 years.

M. S. A.

ANDREWS (S. L.) Mrs. Winnifred (Andrews) Paulus has changed her street address again, but is still in Washington, D. C. (See roster.)

ARMSTRONG (R.) Mrs. C. A. Hair, after a year's sojourn in California, returned to Maui and spent six months in the islands last year (June to Dec.), as the guest of her daughter Dorothy, Mrs. Clayton Thomas, of Wailuku. While here Cousin "Millie" disposed of most of her household goods and moved into smaller quarters at Hamakuapoko, as she expects hereafter to rotate between the members of her divided family, two in the islands, two in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Eastman, of San Francisco, welcomed their first child, Harold Thomas Eastman, just one day after the New Year, 1929. Mrs. Eastman was Margaret Hair. Her mother, just mentioned above, was there to welcome her second grandchild. Mrs. Eastman's address is changed from Coleridge to Dolores Street, San Francisco. (See roster.)

Doris Hair is completing a six months' course in Social Service work at the University of California. She is already a trained dietician of some experience and she will find either profession worthwhile. During this period of preparation for social service, Doris and her mother have been living at 2538 Hillegass Street, Berkeley, Calif.

On May 12, 1928, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howe welcomed their fifth child, Sydney Howe. This gives them four sons. Mrs. Howe was Miss Margaret Armstrong, daughter of Samuel C. Armstrong, founder of Hampton Institute, Virginia. The Howes have moved from Watertown, Conn., to Hanover, N. H., and are now at Dartmouth College, where Mr. Howe holds an assistant professorship. We have this year been glad to place the name of Richard Armstrong Howe, their third son, on our list of life members. We hope that some day Richard Armstrong, the great-grandson, will come to Honolulu to see the tablet in Kawaiahao Church in memory of the other Richard Armstrong so well known in the Mission history of these islands.

Mrs. Eleanor (Weaver) Teel and little son, Peter, made a business trip to Honolulu last July, 1928. On the way out they visited in Olympia, Washington, with Mrs. Philip Weaver and Mrs. Mary (Weaver) Maclay, mother and sister of Mrs. Teel. On returning Mrs. Teel was met by her husband in San Francisco and accompanied back to Boston. Their street address has been changed. (See roster.)

Mrs. Henrietta Fangel, living in Florence, Italy, has changed her street address. (See roster). Mrs. Fangel was Henrietta Weaver, daughter of our well-known "Cousin" the late Mrs. Ellen (Armstrong) Weaver, and sister of the late Philip L. Weaver. She is an artist.

BAILEY (E.) Cousin Mae (Bailey) Zumwalt has sent family data for our genealogical books. She says: "My son-in-law was stationed in Philadelphia for ten months, then he was detailed to Camp Holabird until June 15th of this year (1929). We are hoping to be sent from here (writing from Maryland) to the west coast. If we are, I shall do my best to return to our islands and hope that I may end my days there. You will notice that Madeline named her baby after Grandma Bailey and my cousin Caroline Bailey, although the spelling is slightly different. Aloha to all the Cousins, especially to 'Kauka' Wilder."

In March of this year Mrs. Minnie (Bailey) Bazata and her husband returned to the islands from Saratoga, Calif., for a short visit, spending their time on Maui and Oahu. They have many friends on Maui, as Mr. Bazata was the pastor of the Makawao Union Church of that island twenty-two years ago.

Just in time for our annual, comes this from Cousin Caroline H. Bailey, at Los Gatos, California: "How I love the feeling that the Cousins are dotted over the earth (like Eagle Brand and Ivory and Fords) and that we all have an interest that's really personal in what's happening to them! The Roll-Call is so very specially a joy to Mother and me, and I love the feeling of 'belonging' that can't, I suppose, be felt in the same way by those of you who live in the islands and take all your contacts for granted!

"Since the Dickeys' golden wedding anniversary when she saw many people whom she'd not met since island days, Mother and I have wished that once or twice a year there might be a reunion of kamaainas somewhere round the bay. Not very long ago Anna Sawyer, Millie Beckwith Hair and Mr. and Mrs. Wells, who used to be in Wailuku, came in and we had a very happy little islandy visit. Grandfather's pictures—Iao and Haleakala and the old stone house in Wailuku—were around us as we talked.

"I wish we might have some records of the old Hawaiian hymns. I hope that they can be made before all the old-time natives are gone. Mother's and my aloha nui."

BALDWIN (D.) Mr. and Mrs. Erdman D. Baldwin welcomed to Maui in May of 1928 their son, Dwight V. Baldwin and his family, who for about seven years had lived on the island of Kauai, at Makaweli. Dwight has a position with the Wailuku Sugar Co. and is living in the Waihee district. They have three children.

Mrs. Winifred Brewster, only daughter of Mrs. Winifred (Baldwin) Weddick, of Wailuku, Maui, was married in San Francisco on Aug. 4, 1928, to J. Leldon Morrison. The couple are living in Niles, Calif.

Charles W. Baldwin, who is principal of one of our large public schools in Honolulu, the Kaahumanu School, spent the summer of 1928 in Los Gatos, Calif., where his wife and two children are living at present for educational purposes.

The unexpected death of Benjamin D. Baldwin on August 27th last, came as a shock to his many friends throughout these islands. He was the manager of the Hawaiian Sugar Co. at Makaweli, Kauai. The place thus left vacant was filled by the appointment of his son, Douglas E. Baldwin, who for five years had managed Kahuku Plantation on Oahu. This brought about the unusual situation at Makaweli of three brothers holding important positions on this plantation, for Cedric acts as assistant manager and Paul as chief engineer. Mrs. Ben Baldwin continues to live near the plantation, at their former beach house, and has for companion her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lillian (Baldwin) Atwater.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Baldwin, of Makawao, Maui, were elevated to the rank of grandparents on November 19, 1928, when Bruce Baldwin Roeding arrived in the family of their daughter, Frances. This small boy and his parents live in Niles, California. As we go to press we hear that Frances and the baby are expected home on a visit shortly.

Mrs. Lois (Murdoch) Hall came to the islands early last December to spend the Christmas season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Murdoch, of Paia, Maui. Lois was accompanied by her little daughter Barbara, who is now five and a half years of age. They returned to their home in North Haven, Conn., on February 20, 1929.

The H. P. Baldwin branch reports four marriages and two births during the past year.

Mrs. H. P. Baldwin (Emily Alexander) in her eighty-second year spread the cement for the laying of the cornerstone of the new Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd., building, in Honolulu, last November. She is the wife of the junior member of what was originally a partnership between her brother and her husband, Samuel T. Alexander and Henry P. Baldwin, to whom the building is a memorial. The Baldwin family was further represented at the ceremony by two elder sons, Henry (Harry) and Frank Baldwin. Mrs. H. A. Baldwin has given her grandson, Colin Campbell Cameron, membership in the Cousins' Society.

Dr. William D. Baldwin, after much study and experimental work at his farm, Haiku, Maui, has perfected several fine varieties of avocado pears and is supplying the Honolulu market with fruit such as has never been known here before. Dwight Holbrook Baldwin, only son of Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Baldwin, was married at Honolulu November 20, 1928, to Miss Elizabeth Lindsay. The ceremony was performed in St. Andrew's Cathedral. Two of the groom's sisters, Mrs. Polly (Baldwin) Webster and Virginia Baldwin, assisted as matron of honor and bridesmaid. The other bridesmaids were Mrs. Charlotte Emily (Rice) Walker and Louise Erdman. The groom was attended by his cousin, Edward Baldwin. White and green were used in the church decorations. The bride was gowned in white moire and her attendants in white chiffon. Calla lilies and white orchids were carried by the bride and the matron of honor, while the bridesmaids carried sprays of rare fern tied with silver ribbon. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Manoa Valley. Four months were spent on a honeymoon trip, which took Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin to South America. The couple will make their home at Haiku, Maui. Mrs. Webster's street address has been changed. (See roster.)

Two marriages took place in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Baldwin, of Cleveland, Ohio, in the summer of 1928. The first was that of Frederick Chambers Baldwin to Antoinette Dodge on June 20. That was followed on July 7th by a ceremony uniting Henry Perrine Baldwin and Emily P. Mead of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis. The latter is the oldest son of Cousin Arthur D. Baldwin and the namesake of his paternal grandfather. We did not receive details of these weddings. Another event was the birth of the Arthur Baldwin's first grandchild, last August. The mother is Mrs. Louise (Baldwin) King and the little boy is named for his father, Woods King.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. K. Baldwin of Ulupalakua Ranch, Maui, welcomed on May 20, 1928, their first child, a son named Gregory, for his mother's family. The two babies just mentioned were made life members of our Society by their great-grandmother, Mrs. H. P. Baldwin. Edward is an enthusiastic polo player and was one of a team from Hawaii and Australia who went to California early this year and competed with mainland players. The team carried off honors, with Edward leading in a great game. Asa and Lawrence Baldwin, younger brothers of Edward Baldwin, sons of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Baldwin, of Puunene, Maui, are both at Yale University. Asa expects to graduate in June of this year, while Lawrence will complete his Freshman year.

The important happening in the Sam Baldwin family has been the marriage of their oldest daughter, Helen Gray, to Lieut. Peyton Harrison. This occurred on December 27 last, far from Helen's island home. Mrs. Baldwin (nee Kathrine Smith) accompanied her daughter last fall and was present at the wedding at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City. Richard and Barbara, brother and sister of the bride, were also present. The wedding trip was made through the Panama Canal en route to Honolulu. Prior to his marriage, Lieut. Harrison was in the U. S. Navy and had been stationed near Honolulu, so is acquainted here. He has entered the employment of Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd., and the couple are making their home in Honolulu.

BINGHAM (H.) We appreciate very much the regularity with which Cousin Hiram Bingham sends news items about his family.

Senator and Mrs. Hiram Bingham took their three younger sons, Brewster, Mitchell and Jack, to Europe during the summer of 1928. The Senator presided at the Republican State Convention in Hartford in April and went as a delegate-at-large from Connecticut to the Republican National Convention at Kansas City in June. There he was a member of the Platform Committee. Cousin Hiram continues his interest in matters Hawaiian, Chinese and Samoan. In February of this year he sponsored a joint resolution which passed both houses of Congress, accepting the cession of Eastern Samoa to the United States and authorizing the appointment of a commission to study conditions with a view to a new form of government for American Samoa.

Woodbridge ("Woody") Bingham, Cousin Hiram's oldest son, was married on June 28, 1928, to Ursula Wolcott Griswold at the Old Church in Lyme, Conn. They are now occupying the old Woodbridge House in Salem which was given to Woodbridge by his grandfather, the late Alfred Mitchell. The address of Woodbridge is therefore changed from New Haven to Salem, Conn.

Hiram Bingham, Fourth, spent the summer of 1928 largely in Peru and Bolivia, following in the tracks of his father's former explorations. He is studying to prepare himself for work in the consular and diplomatic service, so that he can come to a more international solution of life's problems. Alfred M. Bingham was a delegate from the town of Salem to both the spring and fall conventions of the Republican Party in Connecticut. He is studying law at the Yale Law School. Charles spent the summer of 1928 as an assistant in Dr. Grenfell's hospital in northern Newfoundland and Labrador. He entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University in the fall of the year.

Mrs. Clara M. Sutherland is making her home now with her daughter, Mrs. Clara (Sutherland) Arledge, in the Kaimuki section of Honolulu. Mrs. Arledge substituted for the secretary of this Society during the months of September and October, 1928. Her son Ned has spent this past year in Ashland, Oregon, where he has attended school. The climatic change has done him much good. The plan is for Ned to visit his Arledge grandparents in Meridian, Miss., this summer, before returning to Honolulu to resume school work at Punahou.

Mr. and Mrs. Ideler (Mrs. Ideler was Pearl Sutherland), have had a very busy year in New York teaching and fulfilling their engagements. Mr. Ideler is a violinist and Mrs. Ideler accompanies him at the piano. They and Mrs. Ideler's brother Charles Sutherland and family, spent last summer in France, returning to New York in October. In the latter part of February, this year, Mr. and Mrs. Ideler visited their cousins, the Hiram Binghams, in Washington, and had the pleasure of playing to an audience of friends of the Binghams. Mrs. Ideler writes her mother: "It was such a wonderful treat to see the Binghams again and they treated us royally. 'Hi' drove us around to his favorite Washington vistas, including the Lincoln memorial, so perfect, so ethereal." Mrs. Ideler then gives the following further items regarding the Bingham sons: "Jack, the youngest, is scintillating at Groton, with term averages of 95, etc., as well as being chief editor of the paper there. Mitchell is being allowed to give up his college and go to an art school. Brewster is studying for the ministry." The Idelers will be in Pittsfield, Mass., this summer, where Mr. Ideler will play with the South Mountain Quartette.

Charles Sutherland has taken his family to Colchester, Conn., for the summer, where he and his wife will devote themselves to some serious art work in preparation for an exhibition in New York next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sutherland and son moved last August from Oahu to the Island of Maui, where they have been in charge of the Smith-Hughes classes at the Puunene School. Mr. Sutherland takes the agricultural work and his wife the home-making department.

Elizabeth N. Brown, great-niece of Cousin Clara M. Sutherland, was married on February 2nd of this year to James Oliver Brooks. It was a home wedding, at Kenilworth, Ill., and was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks are living at Winetka, a neighboring suburb of Chicago.

BISHOP (A.) Mrs. Della (Bishop) Shaw made a trip to the mainland during the spring and summer of 1928, going through the Panama Canal. She first visited her relatives on both sides of the family in the eastern States, many of whom she had never seen. Then came west to attend the wedding of her youngest daughter, Margaret, at Columbus, Ohio. Cousin Della says Margaret received her Ph. D., a husband and a $100 prize, all in one year. The prize was for a model garden plan which she worked out in competition with 118 competitors, for the Botanical Society of New York City in 1927.

Margaret's wedding was a very quiet one on June 16th. Her name now is Mrs. Sylvester Sherman Humphrey. Her husband is professor of botany at the State University, Columbus, where Margaret first met him while studying for her degree. As Margaret was pledged to continue her professorship in botany at Vassar College, they have each gone their separate ways during the past school year, and that is the reason her address is not changed in our roster. Her home will be in Columbus, Ohio.

Another wedding in the Bishop family last year was that of Margaret's cousin, Helen C. Bishop, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John S. Bishop, of Forest Grove, Oregon. The marriage took place at the end of the summer vacation at her parents' home, just before she too returned to her teaching profession at Wyoming. Helen married Theodore John Dunnewald, professor of agronomy at the same University.

Mrs. Helen (Hillebrand) Dalton, who lives in Seattle, Washington, conducted your Secretary on a sightseeing tour of that city during the latter's one-day stopoff in October last. This tour included the University of Washington campus (near which Cousin Helen lives), the residential district and the Canal Locks (second only to Panama) in operation, lunch in the business district and then a walk through the famous Seattle markets. Cousin Helen proved a better-versed guide than the chauffeur. Louise Dalton, only child of Cousins William and Helen Dalton, is a student at the University of Seattle, Washington.

BOND (E.) Doreen Bicknell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bicknell, accompanied her grandparents last summer and fall on a trip to Europe, then returned to her studies at the University of Washington, Seattle, Wash., after a short visit at her home here in Honolulu.

Gertrude E. Storey wrote in March: "I have a leave of absence from my teaching position in Kalamazoo, Mich., so am going to spend six weeks at Palm Springs, California, and I shall have an opportunity to see my mother and sisters (Mrs. Annie Bicknell Storey, Marion and Alice). My brother William is still residing in Ann Arbor." Gertrude's address for receiving mail is changed. (See roster.)

Robert E. Bond, of Berkeley, Calif., has changed his street address. (See roster.) He writes that his youngest daughter's name has been changed from Consuelo Adrian to Suzanne. Mrs. Edith (Bond) Howard, with her husband and two daughters, arrived in Honolulu on July 4, 1928. This was Cousin Edith's first return to the islands since she left twenty years ago, and she naturally had many places of interest to introduce her family to. They called at the Old Mission buildings and enrolled Barbara and Elisabeth as life members. They visited the Bond family on the island of Hawaii and the site of Cousin Edith's former home at Kohala. On August 31st their faces were turned towards their home in Farmington, Conn.

The Misses Caroline and Julia Bond are making their home in Hilo with their brother, Dr. B. D. Bond and his wife. Mrs. Bond is this year serving as the president of the Hilo Woman's Board of Missions. Dr. and Mrs. Bond now have seven grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglass Bond welcomed a little boy into their home on August 28, 1928, and named him for his father. They live at Ewa Plantation, Oahu. His great aunt, Miss Caroline Bond, saw that the little boy was made a life member of this Society.

CASTLE (S. N.) Wm. R. Castle and his brother George P. Castle are among the few remaining charter members of the Y. M. C. A. of Honolulu. The former celebrated his eightieth birthday on March 19th of this year. The health of both brothers is far from good. Wm. R. Castle, Jr., made a brief visit here in February of this year, coming from Washington, D. C.

Andrew C. Westervelt brought his young wife on her first visit to the islands last summer. They were guests at many social affairs. At the end of the summer vacation they returned to Chicago University where Andrew entered the faculty as assistant professor of English Literature. At the end of December, having completed the prescribed course in this subject, he was at liberty for the remaining school year. The Westervelts decided to spend the time in study and travel in Europe. In March they were reported as in Florence, Italy. We now hear from Andrew's mother that the couple plan to stay away a year or two longer studying. They may be addressed in care of Cook & Sons, London, England.

Mrs. Henry A. C. Mead wrote us last October of the birth of their second son on January 26, 1928. She also made him a life member. The little fellow's name is Henry Tufts Mead. He is their third child. The address of Mr. and Mrs. Mead has been changed. (See roster.)

Mrs. Mabel (Wing) Castle was in Honolulu in August, 1928, as a delegate to the Women's Pan-Pacific Conference from the Friday Morning Club of Los Angeles, Calif.

Alfred Lowrey Castle, Jr., is a Freshman at Harvard University.

CHAMBERLAIN (D.) After our records for last year had closed, another member of the Daniel Chamberlain family became much interested and joined our Society. This is Mrs. John Honsaker, a great-granddaughter of Daniel and Jerusha Chamberlain and a granddaughter of Nancy, or "Baby Nancy," as she was referred to in the early records of the mission. Mrs. Honsaker lives in Pasadena, California. In June her son, Horton, spent a week in the islands, with his bride on their wedding trip. They called at the old mission buildings several times.

Cousins George W. and Alice Chamberlain have made themselves life members in full during the past year. They have written several times to the secretary since their visit to our islands in February, 1928, and wish to be remembered to "all the good Cousins who made our stay so pleasant." They motored to Florida from their home in Worcester, Mass., for the 1928 winter outing. Cousin Alice says: "We enjoyed our trip very much, only we should have gone there before we went west and to Honolulu, as we found the South far less interesting."

CHAMBERLAIN (L.) Mrs. Helen (Chamberlain) Ives continues "grandmothering around" in the families of her three married children in Illinois. She makes her home mainly in Rockford, with her daughter Alice Sumner, is close to her son Warren, and not too far from her daughter Esther, about two hours' drive by auto.

A new daughter-in-law and granddaughter have been added to Mrs. Ives' family. This was through the marriage of her younger son, Charles G. Ives, in July, 1928, in California, and the birth of little Gloria Lee on February 24 of this year. This is the only branch of the Ives family living in the west. They are in Richmond, Calif. Mrs. Helen Ives' older son, Dr. Warren C. Ives, is a successful physician in Rockford, Ill. He has one son. Warren's younger sister, Mrs. Alice (Ives) Sumner, lives quite near with her two interesting children, Esther Jeanette and Warren

Eugene. The little cousins are inseparable playmates. Mrs. William Spooner (Esther Ives), lives in River Forest, Ill., so close to Oak Park that there is no dividing line. She is a very busy and efficient woman. In addition to her work in the Oak Park Church (Dr. Palmer's), she and Mr. Spooner have worked up a series of Marionette shows, with which they entertain audiences very successfully. Mr. Spooner ("Bill"), has a large share in creating the manikins and equipment necessary for such shows. They have one son, Donald, now seven years of age.

In October of last year Cousin Helen and your Secretary took the trip to Thompsonville, Mich., (a day's railroad ride from Chicago), to visit Rev. and Mrs. Horace W. Chamberlain. Cousin Horace has a small but interesting parish. Thompsonville is the railroad center for the surrounding farming district. This means that the people are scattered and are of the hard-working class. We enjoyed delightful drives past apple orchards, at that time hanging heavy with beautiful red fruit, attended services in Cousin Horace's church and met many of the people.

William W. Chamberlain shows his loyalty to our Society by continuing to act as treasurer, although otherwise a very busy man. He left on a short trip to the mainland with his son Warren, Feb. 23 of this year, visiting many of the eastern cities he had not seen, but was back for annual meeting on April 20th. Warren left Maui last December and has just been employed by the Hawaiian Pineapple Co., Honolulu. Clio Chamberlain, since the first of this year, has been with the Bishop Trust Co. Mrs. Chamberlain has resigned as a trustee of Lunalilo Home for aged Hawaiians.

The death of Mrs. James P. Chamberlain, mother of Mrs. Worth O. Aiken, is recorded elsewhere in this issue. Mr. and Mrs. Worth O. Aiken, formerly of Maui, are making their home in Honolulu, where they have been welcomed by their many friends. Mr. Aiken, since July of last year, has served as president of the Honolulu Ad Club, and is associated with the real estate firm of Frank L. James. Mr. and Mrs. Aiken have been occupying the home in Manoa Valley of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cox, during the absence of the latter in Europe. They have a beautiful grandson, Walton Aiken Baker, in Springfield, Mass. now two years old, the age of interesting development. Their younger son, Malcolm, has for two years attended the California Military Academy, at Mayfield, Calif.

CLARK (E. W.) Mrs. Catalena (Clark) Sedgwick, of Dixon, California, has notified us of the birth of her granddaughter, Catalena Diane Halsey, on August 25, 1928. The home of this new baby and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Murphy Halsey, is 620 San Miguel, Berkeley, Calif.

Alvah A. Scott, elder son of Mrs. Emma (Clark) Scott and Manager of Honolulu Plantation, Oahu, was elected in July, 1928, to the chairmanship of the Territorial Republican Central Committee.

Mrs. Harriet (Austin) Baker, with her husband and daughter Ruth, left Honolulu August 31, 1928, for a long trip, "The Baker Tour," the itinerary of which was, the Orient, India, Ceylon, Ur of the Chaldees, the Holy Land, touching Egypt, Italy, England, and home by America. From the accounts received they are having a very interesting and successful trip.

B. Hale Austin, eldest of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Austin, lives in Phelps, N. Y., where he is in charge of a large farm. H. Ashford R. Austin, who for two years was the City and County Engineer for Honolulu, opened an independent office in January of this year. He is located in the Stangenwald Building, Honolulu. He received his degree as a civil and hydraulic engineer at Cornell University in 1913 and since then has had much experience in his line of work. Mrs. Violet (Austin) Silverman has, since April first of this year, been a member of the staff of the Library of our Society. She will also lend a hand in the secretary's office when needed. We are very glad to have her thus associated. Margaret Austin, the youngest in this family, left Honolulu last September and has spent the year in New York City where she has a stenographic position.

Cousin Helen Severance is a resident of Honolulu now, although she still has interests in and near Hilo where she lived for many, many years.

Ernest B. Clark resigned in June of last year from his position as secretary of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, and has gone into business for himself. He is the son of Charles K. Clark. His mother, Mrs. Harriet Clark, lives in Berkeley, Calif.

COAN (TITUS). Through a visitor last July, we learned the address of Mr. R. Titus Coan, a nephew of Rev. Titus Coan, who came to these islands with the seventh group of missionaries in 1835. In the hope of locating our cousin, Raymond Coan, the Secretary wrote for information. Although our hope has not been realized, we have gotten in touch with the two sons of Dr. T. Munson Coan, so well known to some of our older cousins. Philip M. Coan, the elder son, is on the editorial staff of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, Brooklyn, N. Y. His brother, Hamilton M. Coan, is living with him at 76 Elm Street, Montclair, N. J.

COOKE (A. S.) When Mrs. Maud B. Cooke returned from an eastern trip last October, she brought her daughter Emily (Cooke) Osborne and the little one-year-old granddaughter, Patricia, for a visit of several weeks. J. Platt Cooke, eldest son of Mrs. Maud B. Cooke, has been for several months in charge of the branch office of Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd., Seattle, Wash. His family have joined him there. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Cooke returned to the mainland in the fall of 1928 from Leipzig, Germany, where they had been studying for two years. Douglas continued his course in agriculture at Stanford University, Calif., a milder climate. In April of this year he returned with his wife and mother to Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Richards have had many thrilling things to tell of their trip during the last year into the wilds and the tames of Africa. They went with the distinct purpose of making a study of the "Dark Continent" and they know whereof they speak. Mrs. Richards gave African talks during the Lenten season at Central Union Church in March of this year showing the conditions they found, and Mr. Richards did the illustrating with his movie pictures, both of which were intensely interesting.

Atherton Richards, one of Hawaii's best tennis players, had the honor of a match game with Helen Wills, America's champion woman player, in Honolulu last November. A very close game ended in Miss Wills' favor. It was Miss Wills' first visit to these islands and she came as the guest of our cousins Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Richards are now living on the island of Hawaii. Herbert has been placed in charge of the Kahua Ranch in the Kohala district.

Mrs. Charles Atherton has returned once during the past year to her island home but finds the California climate much better for her health. Her daughter, Mrs. Violet Harris, is much interested in the Girl Scouts, and has lately given a Home, completely equipped, to the Girl Scout troops of the Kula district, Maui. This is near Mrs. Harris' own home.

Mrs. Frank C. Atherton, with her two sons, Ballard and Alexander, returned to Honolulu in July, 1928, after their year in Europe. At the end of the summer Ballard went east to enter Princeton College. Marjorie Atherton graduated from Vassar in June, 1928, and returned to Honolulu. She has been on the teaching staff of the Y. W. C. A. during the year, her subject being Music Appreciation.

C. Montague Cooke, our scientific cousin at the Bishop Museum, sailed on March 19, of this year, for Java, where he is attending the fourth International Science Congress. His wife accompanied him. Before leaving he made his second granddaughter, Carolene Alexander Wrenn, a "Cousin" in full.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Cooke and family suffered a severe shock and sorrow last summer, through the sudden death of their son and brother, Clarence H. Cooke, Jr., in an airplane accident at Del Monte, California. This occurred at the end of a European trip. The "Cousins" and this community in general shared in the sorrow and showed their sympathy at the memorial service held at Kawaiahao Church. Both Clarence and his brother George have served as senators in the 1929 session of the legislature. The Clarence Cookes became grandparents again last August when little Ann Frances came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Kay. Mrs. Kay was Anna Cooke. Their home is at Kahala.

Richard A. Cooke was elected to the Presidency of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association last December. He is also President of the firm of C. Brewer & Co.

Theodore A. Cooke has for about four years been commanding officer of the Honolulu Seascouts. He is also an enthusiastic yachtsman. A year ago his Seascouts broke the world's record in "hoisting the scuttle-butt" of their ship "Eskbank." In celebration of this, a chop-suey dinner was given at which the Seascouts presented to their commanding officer a koawood photograph album in appreciation of his interest in the boys of Hawaii. Mrs. Theodore Cooke was one of the party bound for Java in March of this year, so Cousin "Ted" has had his hands full with mothering his four daughters, Elizabeth, Mary, Catherine and Brenda.

CONDE (S.) The Secretary had the great pleasure last October of meeting our Cousin, Mrs. Lucy L. (Conde) King and her daughter, Mrs. Leila (King) Elden in their home on one of the heights of Portland, Oregon. A beautiful panoramic view is the reward for climbing the short, steep ascent, with Mount Hood in the distance. Mrs. King got out her treasured Hawaiian relics left by her father, Rev. Daniel T. Conde, of the eighth company of missionaries.

Mrs. Elden's occupation is life insurance. She has two fine children. Her daughter Lucy E.is a student at the University of Oregon, Eugene, and her son Ralph W., is at Annapolis. One of our visitors this year, a neighbor of Mrs. King, was struck with the resemblance between these young people and their great-grandmother, Mrs. Andelucia Lee Conde, after seeing the pictures of the early missionaries on the walls of our old Mission Home.

Mrs. King's other daughter, Mrs. Hall, who lives in Manila, wrote under date of February 12, 1929: "Mr. Hall and I are leaving in April for a six months' vacation in the States. I am hoping on our trip back to Manila we can find it possible to pass through Honolulu. I would love to become acquainted with some of my numerous cousins." We sincerely hope Mr. and Mrs. Hall may pass through Honolulu and stay long enough to see this island and as many of the "cousins" as possible.

DAMON (S. C.) So closely connected with the Samuel M. Damon family was Cousin Lizzie Campbell, we feel we must mention here the gap that was left by her death last November, after many weary months of illness. But new life also came in February of this year into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Damon in the advent of a little daughter, Heather, bringing joy to many. Mrs. Damon was Julia Waterhouse, so this made Cousin Albert Waterhouse a grand-dad. It also made Mrs. Samuel M. Damon a great-grandmother. The parents and the baby have been living near the Albert Waterhouses at Pearl City Peninsula, but are soon to move into their new home at Moanalua, the Damon estate.

Douglas Damon, youngest son of Mrs. S. M. Damon, made a trip to the island of Bermuda the early part of this year. He found the mode of transportation there very primitive and in order to get anywhere had to use a bicycle of the old-fashioned type, one low and one high wheel. On returning from Bermuda this malihini to ice and snow found New York City in the grip of a severe snow storm with everything frozen stiff.

Cousin Ethel M. Damon has buried herself on the island of Kauai for the last year, where she is doing extensive research work.

Mrs. Julia (Damon) Giffard has rented her house for a year and is staying with the Winne sisters on Nuuanu Ave. She is happy to have her son Walter back from his schooling in California. Cousin Julia has found an outlet for her artistic nature in being associated with the beautiful new store of the Gump Co., from San Francisco. This is in the newly-built-up Waikiki district. Daphne Damon, youngest daughter of Mrs. Frank W. Damon, is also associated there.

William F. Damon and his wife, who live in Chandler, Arizona, are making a visit of several months in the islands. It is twenty-four years since Cousin Will has seen his native land. It was good to have him at our annual meeting, with his wife.

DIBBLE (S.) We are glad to welcome Mrs. Emily D. Wilkie as one of our newest life members. Her aunt, Mrs. Grace P. Haven, of Maui, is responsible for this. Mrs. Wilkie lives with her mother in Berkeley, California. Mrs. Haven continues at Maunaolu Seminary, Maui. She has for many years been the second vice-president of the Maui branch of the Woman's Board of Missions.

DIMOND (H). Mrs. Helen (Kinney) Simpson wrote in March of this year regarding her grandchildren, "George's third baby's name is Joan, and now there is a fourth, but as yet she has no name. They are lovely children and as alike as peas in a pod, with black eyes and yellow hair, and the oldest just barely five years!" These are the children of Helen Simpson's son, George, who holds an important position as chemist in New York City.

Martha Simpson, who spent about a year in Honolulu with her puppet entertainments, left during the summer of 1928 and has been on the staff of the Annie Wright Seminary, Tacoma, Wash., for the past school year. She expects to join her mother in New York City in June, however.

Since our last report was issued, Mrs. Anna (Kinney) Hobron has built a house for herself on Beckwith Street, Manoa Valley. This changes her address again, but she is still near her two married daughters, Mrs. Helen Jones and Mrs. Gladys Dyer.

Mrs. Eleanor (Waterhouse) Wood wrote us in January this year of the birth of her third granddaughter, Ruth Alden Wood, which dates back to March of last year, and made the little girl a life member. She says: "We have no family information this year, save that our aloha for Hawaii remains one of the deepest things in our lives." She calls the donation from herself and husband "our little 'thought' for the work which is being done so well in the old Mission Home."

The birth of a granddaughter to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Waterhouse has been noted under the Damon family.

DOLE (D.) Walter S. Dole gives us a new address for his son Norman D. Dole and has made Janice Evelynne, only daughter of the latter, a member of the "Cousins." Janice is four years old. The Norman D. Doles are living in Sacramento, Calif. (See roster.)

Lieut. Richard W. Dole ("Dick"), has been ordered away from naval duty in these islands, and will go soon to Annapolis for a year of post-graduate study. He and his family have been stationed at Honolulu for over three years and his two children, Richard W., Jr., and Nora Ann, have been born here. They have attended the Society's annual meetings regularly during that time and we shall miss them. The younger, Nora, a perfect little doll, drew considerable attention at this year's reunion.

William Herbert Dole, of West Orange, N. J., has this year started installment memberships for his wife, Helen Irving Dole, his two daughters, Marian M. and Winifred and his son, Stephen H. Dole. We shall be very glad to extend the Dole list as soon as these installments are completed.

We shall now have only two members of the George Dole family left in the islands, Dr. Emily C. and her brother Charles S. Dole.

It's just great when three members of a family send us news of the advent of a new baby. We are pretty sure to get the date correct when this happens, as it did for Muriel Eloise, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn H. Dole, who live at Winnecook, Montana. The father of this little girl is the only member of the George Dole family of thirteen who is not a member of the Cousins' Society. We would like to have him and his family join us.

DWIGHT (S. G.) The only item we have from this family is the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dwight, of Honolulu, on December 11, 1928.

EMERSON (J. S.) Paul E. Emerson, a nephew of Cousins Joseph S. and Oliver P. Emerson, writes from Newark, N. Y.: "Justin Vary Emerson, my son, is attending Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., in the class of 1931, preparing for Williams College."

Oliver H. Emerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Emerson, of Honolulu, sends his best wishes from the University of California, where he is "trying to live on a $750 fellowship" and adds: "I hope to finish up my research in biochemistry this May and get my degree and, if a position opens up, return to Hawaii during the summer."

"Pioneer Days In Hawaii," by Cousin Oliver P. Emerson, is one of the latest books dealing with early mission days here. It is the story of Rev. John S. and Ursula Emerson, patron saints of the Waialua district on the island of Oahu, from 1832 to 1867 and 1888 respectively. Their youngest son, assisted by his wife, has culled from old family journals and letters the outstanding facts and incidents and made a life story of accuracy, great interest and charm. This book may be procured through "The Friend" or Hawaiian Board Rooms, Honolulu.

FORBES (C.) Mrs. William J. Forbes attended the International Sunday School Convention held in Los Angeles, Calif., in July, 1928, as a delegate from "the Church in a Garden." Cousin Kate has been the superintendent of the Intermediate Department of Central Union Church Bible School for many years. Ted Forbes left Honolulu on July 6th, about a week later than his mother, en route to Ohio. He has been studying at the State University, Columbus, this year. Fred B. Forbes is acting as assistant treasurer of our Society. Fred is Scoutmaster of Troop 37, Honolulu Boy Scouts. In March of this year he was elected to serve as chairman of the Honolulu Boy Scouts for the remainder of the year in place of C. Dudley Pratt, resigned.

Marion C, Forbes is teaching in the Lihue Grammar School, Kauai, this year. She has the third grade, and enjoys the work very much.

Frances, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Forbes, spent the summer of 1928 in Honolulu after two years away at Oberlin College. When returning to college the last of August, she was accompanied by her aunt, Harriet G. Forbes. Together they made the tour of Yellowstone Park en route to Chicago, then spent two happy days with relatives at Oak Park before Frances boarded her train for Oberlin. Your Secretary did not go further east than Chicago, though she did go north to Thompsonville, Mich., to visit Rev. and Mrs. Horace W. Chamberlain for one week. Three weeks were spent in Illinois with her cousin, Mrs. Helen (Chamberlain) Ives and family. Thoughts went out to the many other "Cousins" scattered over the various States, with the wish that an aloha might have been radioed to each. The return railroad route was varied by taking the Great Northern's "Oriental, Ltd.", line to Seattle and Portland, thence completing the triangle back to San Francisco and home to Honolulu. In the two-day stopoff at Portland, the first thing on the program was a call at the Oregon Historical Society rooms to see the old printing press which went from Honolulu in 1839, accompanied by Mr. E. O. Hall, to teach the North American Indians of Oregon the art of printing. We now have a photograph of this press in our old Mission Printing House, Honolulu.

William J. Forbes has succeeded to the trust in Central Union Church which Charles Atherton held for ten and a half years, that of Church Treasurer, to which he was elected in January, 1929.

GREEN (J. S.) Mrs. Harriet P. Green is wheeled out of her room into the sunshine on the porch almost every day, but is very much of an invalid. Her daughters, Mrs. May (Green) Wilcox and Caroline, broke away from home responsibilities and library work last summer (1928), and spent two months in San Francisco's bracing climate. They took an apartment there and enjoyed short trips around the bay. With them went two Chinese girls for their first outing from Honolulu. They returned the middle of September. Shortly after that, Mrs. Rhoda (Green) Thayer and husband, Wade Warren Thayer, left for a three months' excursion trip to South America. Rhoda went as a delegate of the Pan-Pacific Union and Wade Warren as representative of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce. They returned shortly before Christmas and for weeks were kept busy telling the story of their twenty-thousand mile cruise to groups of various organizations. Rhoda is a Girl Scout Councillor and Mr. Thayer is Boy Scout Commissioner.

GULICK (P. J.) An account of the life of Mrs. John T. Gulick, whose death was briefly mentioned in our last issue, is given in the In Memoriam articles.

We have to record also the death of Mrs. Charlotte V. Gulick, widow of Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, which occurred on July 28, 1928, at her summer camp, Sebago Lake, Maine. It is of special interest that Mrs. Gulick was the founder of the Campfire Girls of America and also director of the Luther Gulick summer camps.

Rev. Sidney L. Gulick asks us to correct a mistake in the spelling of his wife's and granddaughter's name on page 44 of our last annual. It should be Cara, not Cora. Mr. Gulick also gave us the following items, under date of August 25, 1928: "You may perhaps be interested in knowing that my son Leeds and his wife and two children are home from Japan on their first furlough and are spending the summer with us at Mountain Rest, Lithia, Mass. Our daughter Ethel and her husband, John Barrow, are also here with us. Our son, Luther, and his wife, Helen, and their two boys are to be with us for a few days next week, making quite a family reunion. And our son, Sidney, Jr., was here for a few days in July."

Mrs. Louise (Gulick) Whitaker and her family who returned to their mission field in north China in 1927, have naturally experienced some anxious and exciting times. The latest news is of Mr. Whitaker being held up by Chinese bandits near Lintsing and robbed of the small amount of money he carried.

Honolulu was privileged to have as visitors for the winter and spring months, 1928-1929, the brother and sister of Mrs. Edward Leeds Gulick, of Brookline, Mass., Mr. Charles H. Farnsworth and Miss Farnsworth. Mr. Farnsworth, who is on the faculty of the Teachers College, Columbia University, is a successful photographer and secured many beautiful island views while here, to carry home. Miss Farnsworth found a haven with Mrs. Della (Bishop)

Shaw, while Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth spent part of their time in Ruth Shaw's home. They visited the Old Mission buildings.

Mrs. O. H. Gulick and Miss Julia Gulick continue in their usual health, and were both out to the annual meeting of our Society.

Mrs. Frances (Gulick) Jewett lives with her aunt, Mrs. O. H. Gulick, in Manoa Valley, and continues her educational literary work. She has been revising her series of text books on physiology which have become so well known in schools all over the world.

HALL (E. O.) Frank H. Palmer sends us the changed address of his son, Herbert H. Palmer, and says: "With happy memories of Honolulu and Oahu College and the boys and girls, some of whom still remain boys and girls."

Cousin Frank enclosed a leaflet listing the educational publications which his company, the Palmer Company, puts out; also information about the magazine "Education." This magazine was established in 1880 and our cousin has been on its editorial staff since 1892. It is described as the "oldest independent monthly educational magazine in the United States."

Mr. and Mrs. E. Oscar White continue to live in Honolulu. They are on Liholiho street.

Philip C. Hall came to Honolulu early in April this year as conductor of a party of 22 members of the Sciots. On April 7 he took his place as of old, in Central Union Church choir and sang a solo, which was much appreciated by his friends. He expects to make another trip of this kind in July, as representative of the Matson Navigation Co. in San Francisco, with whom he is connected.

Mrs. Catherine (Jones) Richards returned to Honolulu in August, 1928, after her studies abroad, and as a landscape architect opened a studio in the new Waikiki business section. She has an assistant with her. Her purpose as expressed by herself is "to give all my talent and all I have achieved in my studies to my beloved islands. My aloha was doubled during my absence. I am glad to be back and hope to be kept hard at work here for the rest of my life." Evidences of her achievements are to be seen in Honolulu's many improved gardens and grounds.

Mrs. Ada (Jones) Gartley has both of her sons back in Honolulu and living with her. Mrs. Eleanor (Gartley) Wilson spent the summer of 1928 in Europe while her husband, Lieut. Wilson, of the U. S. Navy, was with the Asiatic Squadron near China. The family of Dr. and Mrs. John G. Knight (Ruth Gartley) was increased last November. They now have two sons.

Mr. A. Lewis, Jr., relinquished his connection with the Pacific Trust Company on August 31, 1928, and resumed the practice of law, taking an office in the Hawaiian Electric Co. building. Marion Lewis is spending this year in Florence, Italy, as one of the group of five island girls there for study. Dudley is a Junior at Harvard, and Elizabeth is preparing to enter Smith College in September of this year from Dana Hall in Wellesley, Mass.

HITCHCOCK (H. R.) Mr. and Mrs. David W. Townsend of Brooklyn, N. Y., have changed their street address. (See roster.)

D. Howard Hitchcock, the artist, lives with his son, H. Harvey Hitchcock, in the latter's new home at 80 North Judd street, but maintains his studio on Kalakaua Avenue (formerly Waikiki Road). Waikiki, by the way, is fast growing to be Honolulu's important suburb, quite a hotel and business center. H. Harvey Hitchcock, who has served as vice-president of our Society for the last two years, has just been elected to the presidency. His sister, Helen, is studying craftsmanship in drawing and painting at the Art Museum, Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. C. H. W. Hitchcock was elected Girl Scout Commissioner for the Island of Hawaii in January of this year.

We record the marriage of H. Rexford Hitchcock, of Kaluaaha, Molokai, to Dorcas Ilae, on October 29, 1928. In January of this year the "new wife" was made a member of the H. M. C. Society by Cousin Rex. Four of his children are students at Punahou School.

Mrs. Mary H. Snow and Harriet C. Hitchcock continue to occupy the family homestead in Hilo when on the island of Hawaii. They both went to California last summer, visiting the Schoen family in San Jose. Harriet remained for some months and was still there when Caroline Snow passed away at Los Angeles, Cal., in December.

Hildreth C. Hitchcock, after teaching two years in Lincoln High School, Los Angeles, Calif., returned to her home in Hilo, with her mother, Mrs. E. H. Moses, in July of 1928, where she has been recuperating from illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Schoen, of Hilo, welcomed a baby son on Oct. 22, 1928, whom they named Edward Castle. Mrs. Schoen's parents were visiting in Hilo at the time. In January the little boy was made a life member of this Society by his great-aunt, Mrs. Mary Snow. Mrs. Schoen has also been made a member of the Society.

Evelyn Schoen, eldest daughter of Mrs. Mabel (Hitchcock) Schoen, left the islands early in December of last year to be with her mother and others of her family now living in San Jose, Calif.

HOLMAN (T.) Mr. Thomas T. Holman passed through Honolulu January 18, 1929. He called at the Old Mission Houses, bought post cards and reminded us of his former day here in November, 1925, then on a world tour aboard the S. S. "Carinthia." He is a grandson of the pioneer missionary doctor to these islands, and the only living member of his family.

JOHNSON (E.) In January of this year, M. Douglas Fyfe, youngest son of David K. and Mrs. Julia (Johnson) Fyfe, sent us data for the genealogical books and the addresses of his brothers and sister. We are very glad to have the address of the eldest brother, David Henry Fyfe, whom we have inadvertently been listing as David K. Fyfe, Jr., for many years, and had lost trace of. He is living in Sebastopol, California. The address of Charles H. Fyfe is Sea Cliff, Aptos, Calif. Miss Julia Lois Fyfe is in Santa Cruz, Calif., R. F. D. 3, Box 68. M. Douglas Fyfe gives his address as 1220 Marin street, Vallejo, Calif. David H. Fyfe is the only one of this family who is on our membership roll. The others are eligible. Will they not join our Society?

Mrs. Clara (Johnson) Bindt, wife of A. P. Rudolph Bindt, after many years of ill health, was called by death on October 25th last, her final illness confining her to the Queen's Hospital for two months. She was the daughter of Henry and Isabella (Holden) Johnson and was born at Kohala, Hawaii, July 8, 1882. With her parents, she left the islands as a girl and did not return until after her marriage in 1900, but from that time her home was in Honolulu. Besides her husband, she leaves four sons, Henry, Arthur, Walter and Frank, one grandson, Clarence Edward, then less than a year old, one brother, Walter L. Johnson, of Alameda, Calif., and a step-brother, Joshua Dickson, of Petaluma, Calif.

Services were held on October 26th at Williams' funeral parlors and on the following day at the Mission cemetery when the ashes were interred in the Johnson family plot, Rev. P. A. Swartz of Central Union Church being in charge.

The marriage of Henry M. Bindt to Miss Margaret Wilkinson took place on September 7, 1928, in Oakland, California. Henry's brother Walter acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Bindt were fellow students at the University of California. They are living at 625 Cornell Ave., Berkeley. Henry's business is with the N. Y. Life Insurance office in Oakland, Calif. Henry is the oldest son of A. Rudolph and the late Mrs. Clara (Johnson) Bindt.

Walter Bindt has been acting as quartermaster on the big Matson steamer "Malolo" during the past year.

JUDD (G. P.) 1928 was a banner year in the annals of the Judds, as this "large and numerous" family celebrated the Centenary of their grandparents' arrival in Hawaii. Commemorative exercises were held in historic Kawaiahao Church to which were invited the descendants of others who had come with Dr. and Mrs. Judd as missionaries so many years ago.

Judge A. G. M. Robertson delivered the principal address of the hour recounting the part which Dr. G. P. Judd had held in the building up of Hawaii. Rev. C. M. Kamakawiwoole of Hamakua, body servant of Dr. Judd, invoked the Divine blessing and Rev.

Henry P. Judd gave an account of other missionaries who were fellow passengers of the Judds on the "Parthian." "On Jordan's Rugged Banks I Stand" and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" were sung by the entire congregation. On July 4th the Judd descendants met under the spreading trees of old Kualoa for a family gathering and luau. All of the grandchildren of Dr. and Mrs. Judd were present with the exception of Helen (Dickson) Pratt, who lives in Nutley, N. J. Mrs. Albert Francis Judd represented the second generation, while as a guest of honor was James M. Tracy, grandson of Sybil Fish, the older sister of our grandmother Laura Fish Judd. The long distance cup was awarded to Haunani (Judd) Farley, who came from Auburndale, Mass., to the Centenary with two daughters and two granddaughters. The grounds of Dr. Judd's old home were filled with a happy throng of cousins. The planting of a cocoanut tree for each of the third generation of descendants and a huge bonfire at the beach closed the day's celebration.

Later in the year a bronze tablet to the memory of Dr. Gerrit P. and Laura (Fish) Judd was dedicated in Kawaiahao Church and all the clan was invited to the home of Julie (Judd) Swanzy, oldest grandchild in the family.

Laura (Fish) Judd's book "Honolulu" has been reprinted by the family as a part of their Centenary celebration. It is for sale at the leading bookstores.

Lawrence M. Judd, youngest son of the late Chief Justice Albert Francis Judd and Mrs. Agnes (Boyd) Judd is prominently mentioned for Governor of Hawaii to succeed Hon. Wallace R. Farrington. Helen Judd, the oldest in Lawrence's family of four, is an enthusiastic Freshman at Mills College, Calif. Betty and Sophie Janet play the 'cello and first violin respectively in the Makiki Heights orchestra organized and directed by their aunt, Mrs. James R. Judd.

Emma Judd, thirteen-year-old daughter of Charles S. Judd, is the pianist in this little orchestra of six cousins. She shows decided musical ability and so does her little brother, affectionately known as "Charlot." This family has a new home on windward Oahu, next to Kealohiwai, which is owned by the A. F. Judd family. The place bears the name of "Puu Pueo." Charles S. Judd is the head forester of Hawaii.

Dr. Judd's son, Robert, plays second violin in the orchestra with his cousin Phoebe Cooke. The other member of this musical organization is Thomas Hastings Cooke, the flutist. This little orchestra furnished the entire program of music for our last annual meeting.

Rev. Henry P. Judd, one of the secretaries of the Hawaiian Board of Missions, with office right across the street from the Old Mission House, is doing a noble and uplifting work for the spreading of God's Kingdom upon earth. His is the special charge of the Hawaiian churches all over this Territory. Our grandparents gave their lives for the uplift of the people of these beautiful islands. Let us not forget that the churches and Sunday Schools stand for the best in the training of young and old.

Henry's older son, David Stuart Judd, is a Freshman at the University of Hawaii. Frank Case Judd, aged fourteen, is President of the Student Council, Punahou Junior Academy.

Albert F. Judd is extremely interested in the plans for the development of Kamehameha Schools on its new site, the slopes overlooking the site of the present grounds at Kalihi. Mrs. Albert F. Judd completed in December, 1928, two years of faithful guidance of the Women's Society of Central Union Church, a work which requires much time and thought and personal work on the part of its president. Bernice Judd, the elder daughter, is the Librarian of the Carter Library, Old Mission House. Dorothy has been working in the savings department of the Bishop Bank during this past year.

Agnes E. Judd, the oldest in this family of nine, received the Gold Service Stripe from Governor Farrington for ten years' faithful and efficient service when on May 9, 1928, she retired as Commissioner, Girl Scouts of Oahu. Miss Judd was one of the founders of the Girl Scouts in Hawaii and has seen its growth from a tiny beginning at Kamehameha School for Girls to a large organization which is an important factor in the development and training of the girls of this country.

Dearly beloved Elizabeth (Carter) Bogardus died on Dec. 22, 1928, her infant daughter preceding her by a few days. No young woman has ever been more beloved than Elizabeth, for her sunniness and her interest in the lives of others.

Phoebe (Carter) Dyer and her family returned to Honolulu in December from an extended stay in Europe.

We extend our sympathy to Carter Galt and his wife in the death of their infant son.

Cousin George R. Carter has resigned from the Library Committee of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society and will be much missed.

George Robert Carter, Jr., after graduating from Yale in 1928 made a trip to the Orient.

Helen Kinau Wilder left Honolulu in April with her friend Emma Campbell for an extended visit in Shanghai, China. Helen has greatly enjoyed her stay in Honolulu with her friends and relatives, but missed the informality of the earlier days in Honolulu to which she was accustomed. A long residence in California has not lessened her love for the land of her birth.

Cousin Laura Wilder Wight has her two grandsons, Francis and Sam Wight, living with her and attending Punahou. Francis, a senior at Punahou, was one of the six Punahou boys who made the recent trip East to compete with other High School track teams. The boys made a fine showing.

Wilder Wight went from California in June, 1928, to the reunion of his class at Harvard, 1907.

Frank Hastings Wight with his wife and little daughter Helen make their home at Waialua, Oahu, where the two boys Francis and Sam stay when Punahou is not in session.

Samuel Gerrit Wight is assistant manager of Molokai Ranch and lives at Kaunakakai. His wife was Agnes Judd Buchanan.

Gerrit and Lillian Wilder have gone again on a scientific expedition to the South Seas.

Samuel G. Wilder's elder daughter Helen Kinau was married at London, England, on Sept. 3, 1928, to Harold Pembroke Dahlquist. Mr. Dahlquist is the Swedish-American baritone who has been singing in Europe for the past two years. His parents live in Enterprise, Kansas.

Peggy (Wilder) Blyth with her husband and little son John Douglas makes a happy home for her father at 60 Judd street.

The Pratts who live at the corner of Judd and Nuuanu streets have many happy gatherings of their own immediate family. Dr. J. S. B. Pratt has all his children residing in the islands now. This Dickson branch of the Judds has eight grandsons, the only girl in the family being Joshua Dickson Pratt's daughter Audrey.

Hester (Pratt) Richardson, with her husband and two little sons makes her home in the "Sand Hills," Wailuku, Maui. Mr. Richardson is bookkeeper with the California Packing Co. at Kahului.

Catharine (Pratt) Field and family are living in their own home in Kawananakoa Park, Nuuanu, between Judd and Wyllie streets. Peyton Field and little John Dudley attended the Central Union Church kindergarten for a few months this past year.

Laura (Pratt) Bowers, husband and little son, live at Wahiawa, Oahu. Francis is connected with the experimental department of the pineapple company.

The Dickson Judds are further recorded under Hitchcock (q. v.).

Laurita (Dickson) Sherman and her husband have gone on an extended trip to Europe.

Helen (Dickson) Pratt has sent us an account of all her five children. Helen Louise (Pratt) Schaaf with her husband and three little girls is now a resident of Oak Park, Ill. Lewellyn Neville is a teacher at Newton, N. J., and Hastings Pratt, a salesman with his father at Nutley, N. J. Julia and Wilson Judd Pratt are still attending school and living at home.

Cousin Julie Swanzy was the prime mover in all the plans for the Judd Centenary. She continues her active interest in the Free Kindergarten Association and in the Daughters of Hawaii, in both of which organizations she is the president.

Nora (Swanzy) Bennett was a delegate from the Island of Hawaii to the Pan-Pacific Women's Congress which met in Honolulu during July, 1928.

Rosamond (Swanzy) Morgan has efficiently served the Cousins' Society as its President for the past two years. She is now the Chairman of the Library Committee, succeeding Cousin George R. Carter, resigned.

Haunani (Judd) Farley spent six months of last year in Honolulu, at Kaaawa, on windward Oahu, and at the old homestead in Kualoa, home of her grandfather, Dr. G. P. Judd. Ruth (Farley) Massey, of Winchester, Va., her elder daughter, had not been back to Hawaii since 1887 when she came as a child with her mother and little sister to attend Aunt Julie's wedding. Ruth and Emily, the latter, Mrs. Stephen Wright of Auburndale, Mass., each had a little daughter with her at the Centenary. They were warmly welcomed by their many friends and relatives.

Leilehua Judd, after graduating from the Territorial Normal School, has gone to Lahaina, Maui, where she is a teacher in the Kamehameha III School.

There are two new little Judds in Honolulu: Lydia Anna Haleakala, daughter of Raymond Judd and Piikea Lois Judd, Julian's daughter.

KINNEY (H.) Henry W. Kinney, at one time Superintendent of Public Instruction in these islands, but now residing in Dairen, Manchuria, spent ten days in Honolulu in January of this year. He was starting on a world tour for the purpose of gaining opinions regarding Japanese policy in Manchuria. His official position is head of the publicity department for the South Manchurian Railway. During his sojourn in the Orient, Mr. Kinney has written three novels, the latest of which, entitled "Earthquakes," has lately been published. His daughter, Miriam, is still teaching at Kapaa, Kauai, and his sister, Maud Kinoole, continues to live in Copenhagen, Denmark. The latter occupies herself with her music and is happy and contented. Her brother visited her lately and together they looked up some relatives.

LOOMIS. Photographs were received at Christmas of Cousin May E. Loomis and her little home in St. Cloud, Florida. She is shown in her heirloom dress, almost one hundred years old, the silk of which was given her grandmother, Mrs. Elisha Loomis, by Queen Kaahumanu about 1827. In this dress and with her island curios, she has entertained organizations of her church with the story of early mission work in Hawaii. Under date of January 16, 1929, she says: "Am trying to recover my home from effects of the hurricanes which did some damage but did not overthrow the house." An attack of the flu had taken her strength and not improved her normal health conditions.

LYMAN (D. B.) In January of this year, Elizabeth Jane (Janey) Lyman was made a life member of the Cousins' Society by her great-aunt, Ellen G. Lyman. Janey is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Aldrich Lyman and granddaughter of Dr. Francis A. Lyman who was one of the "Lyman twins." They live not far from their aunt, Mrs. Mary (Babcock) Lyman, on Alewa Heights. Howard B. Lyman, brother of Francis A. Lyman, expects soon to become a benedict.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi C. Lyman are very happy in their two grandchildren, Lyman and Marjorie Bond, who, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Bond, live at Kohala, Hawaii. These children are fortunate in having their grandparents on both sides near enough to visit quite often.

The William McCluskey family have moved across Wilder Ave and their address is therefore changed by a few figures. (See roster.) Robert, the elder of the two sons, is a member of Troop 37, Honolulu Boy Scouts and acts as Scribe for this troop. Donald is specially interested in stamps and coins and has a large collection of stamps. Donald gave valuable assistance last summer with a preliminary classification of the Gulick coins. Mrs. McCluskey was Esther Lyman.

We are recording elsewhere the death of Mrs. Mary (Cossitt) Lyman, widow of the late David Brainerd Lyman, of La Grange, Ill. We remember with pleasure her visit to the islands in 1910 with her husband.

Lyman Baker's marriage to Miss Betty Ball occurred on September 15, 1928, at Peoria, Illinois, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, high noon. It was a beautiful wedding, with a full complement of attendants. The eighteen-year-old bride wore an old-ivory satin gown of the 16th Century English design, with train. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore gowns of umber chiffon. The couple spent their honeymoon on a trip to these islands, where Cousin Lyman has many relatives, and returned about November first to their new home at Robin's Nest farm, Peoria, of which the bridegroom is manager. Mr. Baker is a great-grandson of Rev. and Mrs. David B. Lyman of the fifth company of missionaries, and a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Lyman of La Grange, Ill.

We have been glad to hear from Mrs. Edith Rowe Lyman of New York City, during the past year. Mrs. Lyman is living very near Columbia University, and her younger son, Parmelee, is attending St. Stephen's College there. Much interested in genealogical work, Mrs. Lyman finds it of great advantage to be near the headquarters of various historical societies. She has sent us genealogical data for our records.

Muriel H. Lyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Lyman, of Kapoho, Hawaii, is perfecting herself in the Normal School at Los Angeles, Calif., and enjoying her stay there very much. On entering the school she was asked to use her Hawaiian name as a novelty, and so is known there entirely by the beautiful name Hualani, given to her in memory of her grandmother, Mrs. Rebecca Hualani Lyman.

Clarice Lyman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. Lyman, of Hilo, a graduate from St. Luke's Hospital, San Francisco, returned to the islands in August, 1928, and accepted a position on the staff of the Hilo Hospital.

Charlotte Dana Lyman, formerly of Pacific Grove, California, has entered the Sisterhood of the Episcopal Church at Peekskill, N. Y., and is known as Sister Hilda in the Community of St. Mary. She writes to her cousin in Hilo: "I have known the Sisters for a good many years, but never dreamed the call would come to me. But it did, I was accepted and am very happy in the life. Wherever I may be, St. Mary's Convent, Peekskill, N. Y., is my permanent address." This cousin is a daughter of the late Francis O. Lyman, sixth son of Rev. and Mrs. David B. Lyman.

The James Reid family, of Hilo, Hawaii, are greatly enjoying their place near the Volcano. They have a comfortable house and are starting all kinds of flowering plants in the garden. The location is not on the main road.

LYONS (L.) John F. Doyle, husband of our Cousin Emma (Lyons) Doyle, passed to the Great Beyond on the last day of 1928 at his home in Honolulu. He had been in poor health for a year, but able to be out and around until the last two weeks. Knowing that his trouble was of the incurable type, both he and Emma bravely faced the future and prayed that he might be spared the acute suffering and lingering of his disease. This was granted and his was a quiet and natural release.

John (Jack) Doyle came to Honolulu from Malden, Mass., in 1898, and had lived here during the intervening years. For twenty of those years he was associated with the Oahu Railway & Land Co. and then for seven years he was assistant superintendent for Libby, McNeill & Libby. On Nov. 4, 1913, he was married to Emma Curtis Lyons, second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Curtis J. Lyons of this city. The couple lived in the Lyons homestead near Punahou School, where Cousin Emma is "carrying on" most courageously, busying herself with school teaching.

Mrs. Albert B. Lyons and daughter Lucia, of Detroit, Mich., have sent their donations, as usual, but have no items of news to report.

POGUE (J. F.) The important happening in this family has been the trip away from his home and these islands of William F. Pogue, of Maui. For thirty-one years his children have one by one gone to California, been educated, married and either settled there or come back to the islands, while he was anchored in the Kailua district of the Island of Maui. Last year he decided it was time to make a change. He resigned as manager of the East Maui Irrigation Co. and early in October left on a trip which was to take him everywhere and only end when he became too homesick for Hawaii nei. Naturally he planned first to visit his sister, Cousin Jane K. Pogue, of Santa Clara, Calif., and his daughters and sons in that State, which probably kept him busy for a while considering the number of years that had elapsed since he had seen them. Cousin William had not returned at annual meeting time, April 20th, and we have not heard from him of his trip, but hope it has proved all that he anticipated. He expects to make his permanent home at Wailuku, Maui.

Henry B. and Frederick Pogue, both married, are living in Honolulu. An older son, Cory Covell, with his wife and two children, lives on Maui.

RICE (W. H.) "Mother" Rice has found Honolulu particularly attractive during the past year and has spent considerable time visiting her daughter, Mrs. Daisy (Rice) Wilcox, here. On Nov. 28th she helped to kindle the Thanksgiving spirit by giving a talk over the Honolulu KGU radio, in both English and Hawaiian, which was distinctly heard and appreciated.

In a letter to our Recorder early this year, "Mother" Rice said: "I have such happy memories of the Cousins' Society in the long ago. It is so different now and of course it cannot be otherwise. But I do hope and pray that it will ever live, for it helps to keep up the old missionary spirit, which we hope may never die."

A second son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison Rice, of Haiku, Maui, on Feb. 6, of this year. Mrs. Rice, who was Miss Olivia Le Bosquet, had the pleasure of a visit from her parents last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rice returned in January of this year from a four-months' visit in the Orient. Their objective was Shanghai, China, where their daughter, Mrs. J. C. Plews, and husband are living, and there six weeks were spent. They enjoyed sixteen days in Japan in October, and also ten days in Manila.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Wichman welcomed into their home on June 20, 1928, a son, named Frederick Bruce. Mrs. Wichman was Juliet Rice.

The wedding of Anna C. Scott and David Penhallow was an event of last June on Kauai. The home of "Mother" Rice, the bride's grandmother, was used for the occasion, at four o'clock in the afternoon, the decorations being of white Easter lilies. The bride was attended by her two sisters, Alice and Eunice Scott, dressed in pastel shades of blue. The best man was Mr. Richard Penhallow. The couple first made their home in Honolulu. In January of this year, however, Mr. Penhallow accepted the position of cashier in the Lahaina branch of the Bank of Maui, Ltd., and they moved to Lahaina, Maui.

The two brothers, Charles A. and Harold W. Rice have served the 1929 session of the legislature as senators. Mrs. Harold Rice has made her son-in-law, John Cornwell Walker, a life member of our Society.

RICHARDS (WM.) Much valuable data regarding the descendants of Rev. William Richards has been sent to the Recorder of our Society by Cousin Emily Williston, of Cambridge, Mass. Miss Williston is a granddaughter of Wm. Richards. Another granddaughter, Mrs. Frank Stearns, had the honor of assisting Mrs. Coolidge at the White House much of the time last year.

Hubert Lyman Clark sent word of two important events in his family, the marriage of his daughter Janet to Lt. Gilbert B. Myers, U. S. N., and the birth of his first grandson, Stirrat Holman Clark, the first on June 14 and the second on July 12, 1928. Mr. Clark writes: "Janet has gone to live at San Pedro, Calif., where the naval base is. William is very happy at Amherst, but will report for himself. I am off for Japan, Java and Australia, in March. Shall call on you in Honolulu, Thursday, April fourth."

The William referred to above, William Smith Clark II, has changed his street address. (See roster.)

The Secretary and several other Cousins waited all day for Hubert L. Clark's promised call on April 4, hoping to assist him in seeing our city, but were disappointed. Being unable to locate him, we could only wait. However, we presume he will pass through Honolulu on his return and shall hope for better success then.

ROGERS (E. H.) Edmund H. Rogers sends us a change in his mailing address and says: "I am still in West Concord, but the West Concord Post Office has been closed and everything goes to Penacook some seven miles away."

ROWELL (G. B.) From Dorothy C. Rowell we learn that her sister, Olive, spent last summer in the eastern States, but returned to her home in Hollywood, Calif. Of herself she says (January 8, 1929): "I've been taking an enforced rest. Worked pretty hard on a paper I read at the scientific convention here (New York City) after Christmas and had to spend nearly a week in bed. I am hoping now to get a doctoral dissertation out of the subject on which I read my paper. Perhaps some day I'll be free to leave this city."

RUGGLES (S.) Mrs. Frances S. Loomis has reported the death of her daughter, Mrs. Florence (Loomis) Haswell, on May 17, 1928, at Madison, Wisconsin, after an operation. She was in her fifty-first year. Mrs. Loomis wrote: "Florence was a woman of personal beauty and great sweetness and depth of character, essentially a home woman, and the home was almost an ideal one.

She was a fine singer and was a charter member of our large choir in the church and also in the chorus of our Women's Club. The daughters, Mrs. Rachel (Haswell) Robertson and Mrs. Helen (Haswell) Tucker, two sons, Clayton L. Haswell, a freshman in the University, and the dear little ten-year Homer Alba, with her husband, are left to bear this great loss as best they can." Mrs. Loomis also reports the birth of her two new great-grandsons, Paul Donald Robertson and Robert James Tucker, the former on Oct. 1, 1928, at Evanston, Ill., and the latter on Dec. 18, 1928, at Wilmette, Ill. These little boys are the children of the two Haswell sisters and grandsons of Mrs. Florence L. Haswell whose death is mentioned above. We appreciate Mrs. Loomis' faithfulness in keeping in touch with our Society, as otherwise we would not be able to record these items. She is the only descendant of the Ruggles family who is a member of our Society. This is the only family which has reached the sixth generation from their missionary forebears to these islands, Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Ruggles.

A visitor on February 20 of this year, Mr. C. H. Hurd, of Kenosha, Wis., told of having read, as a boy of seventeen, the journal of Samuel Ruggles en route to the Sandwich Islands in 1819-20; also of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hurd, Sr., having been remarried on their Golden Wedding by Samuel Ruggles at Fort Atkinson, Wis.

SMITH (J. W.) Three years ago we recorded two Golden Weddings in this family; this year we record two deaths, of the brothers William O. and Alfred H. Smith, almost a year apart.

William O. Smith has been so entwined with the life of this community and these islands that it is hard indeed to realize he has passed beyond our sight. His interest in the Cousins' Society was deep and keen. He was one of the Society's best buyers of missionary albums, giving them to his children and friends as a matter of education.

Alfred (Fred) H. Smith was of a more retiring nature than his brother and consequently was not as well known here. His widow lives at 1660 Pensacola street, near the site of the former Lunalilo Home, which she and her husband managed for many years. Her son Raymond and his family live on Makiki Heights, not very far away, while her daughter Alice has a place of her own in Nuuanu Valley.

Lorrin Hobron Smith, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorrin K. Smith, of Makawao, Maui, entered the Montezuma School, Los Gatos, Calif., last September.

Into the Hartwell branch of this family was welcomed on November 17, 1928, Reed Pierce Anthony, Jr., whose parents live in Brookline, Mass. This is the second child and son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony. The Honolulu grandfather, Alfred T. Hartwell, made the little boy a life member of the Cousins' Society in January of this year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Waterhouse and daughter Melicent are firmly intrenched in the life of the Koloa community, Kauai. Dr. A. Herbert Waterhouse, their eldest son, and his family, who have for many years been residents of Koloa, seem to have been the magnets which have drawn his parents and sister back from California. William A. Waterhouse, only son of Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Waterhouse, who has been at school in Los Gatos, Calif., has returned to his Kauai home and is employed by the Koloa Sugar Co. Dr. Waterhouse's second daughter, Marjorie, was awarded a silver badge last October by the St. Nicholas League for a poem she wrote entitled "When Darkness Comes." At that time she was fourteen years of age.

Miss Melicent E. Waterhouse has been very active in educational work, both on Kauai and Oahu, putting more energy than she could afford into her special branch, supervisor of mental testing of pupils in the public schools of Kauai. She also had a part in the Pan-Pacific Women's Conference last summer in Honolulu. She is now on leave of absence on the mainland.

SMITH (L.) Mrs. Mary (Dillingham) Frear published a new book in July of last year entitled "Over Two Seas." It is a book of travel, drawn from personal experiences of a European trip which she and her husband took in 1924-1925, which she calls "The Log of a Spinster." This is her first book in prose form. Her poems and songs are well known. She is preparing another book on Hawaiian trees and plants, which should soon be off the press. In August of 1928, Cousin May was elected to preside over the Footlights, Honolulu's most prominent dramatic club. Mrs. Urban E. Wild (nee Virginia Frear), has been the president of the Honolulu League of Women Voters during the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham and family left Honolulu on August 10, 1928, en route to Europe, where Mrs. Dillingham has spent the year, placing the children in school in France. Cousin Walter was elected President of the Honolulu District Council, Boy Scouts of America, last December.

Shortly before the close of 1928, we welcomed as new members of our Society, Mrs. Margaret B. Dillingham, wife of Cousin Harold G. Dillingham, and their five sons, Walter H., Harold G., Jr., John Henley, Bayard H. and Peter H. Dillingham.

Rev. John P. Erdman was one of the 32 delegates from Hawaii to the World's Sunday School Convention in Los Angeles, Calif., in July, 1928. Mrs. Marion (Dillingham) Erdman attended the graduation of her daughter Louise from Vassar College in June of 1928. After that Harold, who had been studying at Harvard, accompanied his mother and sister on a trip to Europe. They all returned to Honolulu in October. Harold is with the Oahu Railway & Land Co., the enterprise started by his grandfather, Benjamin F. Dillingham. Early in March of this year, the engagement of Louise Erdman to Charles J. Henderson was announced at a large tea given by Mr. and Mrs. Urban Wild.

The gift from the Dillingham family, a beautiful new building on the Punahou School grounds, is nearing completion as this report goes to press, and will be dedicated on April 26th. It is in memory of Benjamin F. and Emma (Smith) Dillingham and is named Dillingham Hall.

THURSTON (A.) We have been glad to add the name of Milton Stevenson Thurston to our list of life members. He is the eight-year-old son of Dr. Asa Thurston, of Taylorsville, N. C., and was made a member by his father early this year.

Cousin Lorrin A. Thurston was, on November 28th last, honored by the Samoan people with the title of Tusitala II. This was in appreciation of his invaluable services in behalf of these people of the southern sea. Over three years ago Cousin Lorrin went to Samoa on a shell-hunting expedition and while there became greatly interested in the people and their problems. On returning to Honolulu he published a series of articles advocating a change in the government of the Samoan Islands. Simultaneously these articles were published in the New York Times and attracted widespread interest. With the cooperation of Cousin Hiram Bingham, a resolution asking for a commission to visit Samoa and study governmental conditions has been passed by both houses of Congress and will convene this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Thurston spent two months in California last year as an invigorating change of climate, leaving in September and returning in November.

Charles Henry Kluegel, father of George T., Harry A. and May T. Kluegel, passed away on January 10, 1929, at his home in this city. He had made a wonderful recovery from serious illness and we hoped he had more years to add to his well-spent life. However, his fourscore years and two had been reached, forty of which had been spent in these islands. Mr. Kluegel was distinctly one of the builders of Hawaii. He came here in October, 1888, to be chief engineer of the Oahu Railway & Land Co., and was later with the Hilo Railroad Co., serving in these positions from 1888 to 1906. Following this he served in various other places of trust and importance in this Territory. We cannot do better than to voice the following tribute to him by one of his close friends: "Hundreds of men, women and children in the islands and on the mainland suffer a personal loss in the passing of Charles Henry Kluegel. He possessed in a striking degree the rare quality of making lasting friendships as he smiled along the roadway of life. His sunny temperament was an endowment which he unconsciously cultivated. Some people called it the gift of personality. It was a big heart and a buoyant soul."

Harry A. Kluegel is following in the footsteps of his father as a civil engineer. After many years of experience, both here and on the mainland, he returned to Honolulu in June of last year and became associated with the Hawaii Bureau of Governmental Research. In September he received a call to become the City Manager of Sacramento, Calif., and is now making his home in that city.

May Thurston Kluegel has been studying at the University of Hawaii this school year to obtain her degree of A. B. She then expects to spend her summer visiting Australia.

James P. Winne, whose greatgrandmother was Mrs. Lucy G. Thurston, one of the pioneer missionaries, has been serving his country as Republican National Committeeman for Hawaii since June 15 of last year. In this capacity he attended the Republican National Convention at Kansas City, Mo., and worked hard for the nomination of President Hoover. In February of this year he and his wife went to Washington, D .C., to be present at the inauguration of the new President. Before returning, he recommended to President Hoover the appointment of Cousin Lawrence M. Judd for Governor of Hawaii.

TINKER (R.) Both Mrs. Mary G. Weatherup and her cousin, Miss Marina Purdon, wrote of seeing our Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Andrews in April, 1928. Mrs. Weatherup says: "The members of my small family are all well and no one has 'moved.' The great family event of the year 1928 was the visit, short but delightful, of our Honolulu cousins, Laura and Carl B. Andrews, when they were on their way home, after their sojourn in Boston. In July my daughter Margaret and I visited my cousin, Miss Marina Purdon, in her very charming little cottage on the river bank, in Milford, Conn. My sister, Mrs. Elsie Gray Starr, and her husband, Mr. Elmer Starr, are spending the winter again in Pasadena. One of their daughters (Mrs. Glenn Ebersole) lives in Hollywood, the other one is temporarily residing in Durham, N. C."

Miss Purdon says, regarding the Carl Andrews visit: "I was sorry it was so brief, but we managed to show them parts of Yale, as I know a senior who took us around. I have made the acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Tinker of West Haven. The former descends from the brother of my greatgrandfather Rufus Tinker."

A letter from Mrs. Elsie Gray Starr has also reached us, in a round-about way, asking for Tinker information, which we are glad to supply. Evidently Mrs. Starr had not our address or she might have written direct to our Society.

WHITNEY (S.) Caroline E. McCall reports from Saybrook, Conn.: "I am living quietly in my home, trying to do my bit day by day. Friends, both human and divine, have been wonderfully kind, and I am very grateful for all these mercies."

Cousins Will and Emma (Whitney) Goodale, after spending the greater part of a year in Europe, returned to Philadelphia and decided to live there near their daughter, Catherine Warren. It was necessary for Cousin Will to make a business trip to Honolulu and he spent the months of January, February and March here, with the expectation of disposing of their home in Nuuanu Valley. Just before leaving Cousin Will said he had not been successful in this; that they would always think of the islands as their home, but they did not make any plans for returning. We shall miss them, but thoroughly appreciate that for them, Honolulu would be too full of sad memories. Catherine is teaching in a private school in or near Philadelphia.

On April 23rd, just three days after our annual meeting, we were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Cousin William W. Goodale, in New York City. Our sincere sympathy goes out to his wife and daughter.

WILCOX (A.) Gerald Wilcox Fisher (or "Jerry", as he prefers to be called), who was in charge of the Sugar Planters' Experiment Station for cane varieties at Hilo, was promoted about September of last year, to the assistant managership of Kahuku plantation, Oahu. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Galen M. Fisher and a great-grandson of the early missionaries Abner and Lucy (Hart) Wilcox, many of whose descendants now live on the Island of Kauai.

Mrs. Emma (Mahelona) Wilcox presented a new pipe organ last year to the Haili Church of Hilo, Island of Hawaii. The beautiful instrument was dedicated on May 12, 1928, in the presence of a large audience. Later in the year, to mark her birthday Nov. 25th, this "Cousin" donated $10,000 to the Kauikeolani Children's Hospital of this city. The President announced that the fund would be added to the endowment and used to care for patients who are without means.

Mrs. Ralph Wilcox (Daisy Rice) moved to Honolulu from Kauai last September and placed her two adopted daughters, Alice and Eunice Scott, in school, one at the University, the other in Punahou School. Daisy and her family are living in the home of Mrs. Margaret (Waterhouse) Walker on Wyllie street, during the latter's absence on a visit to Scotland.

Mrs. Etta (Wilcox) Sloggett has entered upon her second year as President of the Kauai Branch of the Young Women's Christian Association. She has made her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard Sloggett, a member of the Cousins' Society.

The marriage of Richard Sloggett and Miss Sue Reynolds took place at Flint, Michigan, on May 26, 1928, and was attended by members of the Sloggett family from Kauai. Richard brought his bride home in June and they have made their home at Kapaa, Kauai. In February of this year they welcomed a daughter and have named her Nancy Wilcox Sloggett. This is the first grandchild of Mrs. Etta (Wilcox) and H. Digby Sloggett and first great-grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Wilcox, of Lihue, Kauai.

Margaret Sloggett, on her return from a European trip a year ago, acted as maid of honor at the wedding of her friend, Helen Walsh, of Maui, to Austin S. Davis, at N. Y. City, June 9. In company with her sister, Dorothea, Margaret then crossed the continent to meet her fiance, Clarence H. Cooke, Jr., to whom she was shortly to be married. She bore bravely the news which reached her before arrival in San Francisco, of the tragic death of Clarence. In September Margaret and her sister Edith joined a party of Island "Cousins" (Marion Lewis, Polly Richards and Alice Cooke), who (with a chaperone) have located for the year in Florence, Italy, for the study of art, music and languages.

Miss Elsie H. Wilcox, of Lihue, Kauai, continues to serve as one of the Commissioners of Education for these islands. In August of last year she acted as official hostess to the Pan-Pacific Women's Conference delegates. She served in the same capacity the year before for the men's Institute of Pacific Relations. Both of these conferences were held on the Punahou campus and the delegates housed in the Castle Hall there.

ADOPTED COUSINS

ADAMS. Dr. and Mrs. John Q. Adams have moved from Clifton Springs to Geneva, N. Y. They send to us their best wishes. Last fall Dr. Adams contributed a series of articles on "The Culture of the Spiritual Life," for the Boston Evening Transcript's Saturday edition.

BABBITT. Howard Carter Babbitt, having completed his course at Harvard Business School, returned to Honolulu, his old home, last summer. He is working for the firm of C. Brewer & Co. and living with his uncle, J. Oliver Carter. He expects his mother to come and live with him. Mr. and Mrs. Spelman (Elizabeth Babbitt) welcomed their second child, a daughter, in August of 1928. The Spelmans live in Cambridge, Mass.

BECKWITH. Cousin Mary G. Beckwith, from her home in La Jolla, California, sent her usual contribution in January and says: "The Society certainly means a lot to us and to Honolulu."

BIRNIE. Rev. and Mrs. Douglas P. Birnie returned to the islands for a visit last August, after an absence of thirty years. Mr. Birnie served as minister of Central Union Church during the years 1895 to 1898 and therefore remembered many Honolulu residents of those days. On Sunday, Nov. 25th, he filled the pulpit of the church again for an appreciative audience, this time the new church in a new location. During the last part of their six months' stay, the Birnies occupied the W. W. Goodale house in upper Nuuanu Valley. Their daughter, Mrs. James Farmer, and husband were also here for several months.

BROWN. George Ii Brown was, in January of this year, appointed as one of the trustees of the estate of King Lunalilo, deceased, succeeding Mrs. Wm. W. Chamberlain, resigned.

CROCKETT. Mrs. Grace (Wing) Crockett has changed her street address, though still living in Berkeley. She writes: "My home cares, teaching, travel lectures, etc., fill my time. Then I sing in our church choir and belong to the evening section of the Women's Association. My little granddaughters are darlings! I enjoy them so much." The names of these granddaughters are Elinor Wayne Sydenham and Barbara Louise Crockett. The latter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crockett. Mrs. Crockett was Miss Louise Effinger, of Honolulu.

DAVIS. Mrs. Mary H. (Scott, Carter) Davis wrote us early this year of the marriage of her son, Austin Scott Davis, on June 9, 1928, to Helen E. Walsh, an island girl, daughter of Mr. John J. Walsh, who is well-known in Honolulu and on Maui. The wedding was at St. Thomas' Church, New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Davis are living in Bronxville, N. Y.

DELAPORTE. We are referring elsewhere in this issue to the death of Rev. P. A. Delaporte. Mr. and Mrs. Delaporte and family were well known to many of the Christian people of Honolulu. Several times they passed through this city or stopped here for rest and recuperation. The H. M. C. Society aided the Nauru Mission for many years and more than once one of our Cousins assumed the personal responsibility of securing funds for urgent needs of that mission. Mrs. Delaporte is making her home with her elder daughter, Mrs. Paul Doescher, in Chicago. Paul, the eldest son, is athletic instructor in the city schools of Havelock, Neb. Mabel, now Mrs. Carl F. Thompson, lives in Springfield, Mo., while Philip and Margaret are in college.

EDWARDS. Mrs. Mary Haven Edwards sends her aloha nui and announces the marriage of her namesake granddaughter to Mr. R. W. McOmie on September 29, 1928. Mr. McOmie graduated from Stanford University in the class of 1926 and Mrs. McOmie, nee Miss Mary Haven Edwards, in the June, 1928 class. They are living in Martinez, California.

FULLER. Ellen E. Fuller wrote to the treasurer in January of this year from "Blink Bonnie," Auburn, Calif.: "The annual report means so much to us that I will send a little more this year towards expenses. When we lived in Oakland we were part of the Island Colony in that vicinity. But here we feel the full benefit of all the information given in the report regarding the many cousins far and near. It is worth a much larger thank offering, and I wish it were possible to send more. Aloha nui loa to all cousins."

GILMAN. Carrie A. Gilman and her companion, Miss Florence Yarrow, were among the Florida hurricane sufferers of 1928. Carrie wrote, in November, 1928: "The first of June we began to clean, scrub and paint twelve rooms. Nearly all was done but the floors downstairs when the hurricane struck us. It was just awful. Our roof off, chimney down, water-heater and tank off the roof. Ten ceilings have had to be plastered and several walls and many rooms repainted. The water was two feet in the house. When the water receded there was two inches of mud and slime left over everything and about two feet of it in the yard. Two colored men swept and hosed for several days. We are thankful that we were not injured. If we can only get the house ready in time to rent and then get a good rent, we will feel that all this hard work has not been in vain."

Mrs. Minnie (Brown) Gilman has been making one of her periodical visits to the islands. She has two married sons and one married daughter settled here and has built a home in Honolulu to occupy on her future trips from Berkeley, Calif.

HOLMES. George D. Holmes, of Montclair, New Jersey, reports the sudden death of his wife, Lulu Baird, on March 31, 1928, while visiting in New York City. She was in her sixtieth year, a charter member and prominent worker in the Watchung Ave. Congregational Church, "one whose cheery soul and able mind rejoiced to do unselfishly for others." About three months after his wife's death, Mr. Holmes accompanied his only daughter, Catharine Baird, to Berkeley, California, where on June 28, 1928, she was married to Walter M. Brandow, of Newburgh, New York. Cousin George sends his best wishes.

Samuel J. Holmes reports the birth of his first grandson a year ago at Montclair, N. J., named John Goodale Tschudy von Schmid. Mr. and Mrs. Holmes have nine granddaughters, however.

Miss Mary E. Holmes sent her "annual dollar" from Los Angeles, California, this time, saying: "I wish it were more, but I do not want to fail in sending, for I value my connection with the 'Cousins' Society."

HOPPIN. From the Missionary Herald for December, 1928, we find this reference to our cousin on the Honorary list, Miss Jessie R. Hoppin, under the heading Micronesia: "This little group of workers in the islands during the past year have found themselves overburdened with the care of the schools and the sick. During an epidemic which swept several of the islands, Miss Hoppin more than once journeyed by boat at night from one island to another, that she might minister to the suffering in both." In April of this year we find this item, referring to the arrival of new missionaries on the island of Jaluit, where Miss Hoppin is stationed: "A slight figure which came to greet the missionaries as they landed proved to be Miss Jessie R. Hoppin, who since 1890 has been carrying on among these island people under the American Board."

HOWARD. Under date of March 19, 1929, Walter L. Howard, of Long Beach, Calif., sends his donation and says: "I have joined the just-formed Pacific Geographical Society, which will follow out on the Pacific the general ideals of the National Geographic Society. We are members of the Hawaii Society of Long Beach. This society elected me its delegate or director in the Federated States Societies of Long Beach. As such director I am associated with members from all the other state societies in Long Beach. This Federated States Society has a collection of flags representing every state and territory in the Union. The only other such collection is in the Post Office Department at Washington. The Hawaii Society paid for the Hawaii flag. These flags will be in suitable cases in our new municipal auditorium. So far as I know, all the members of the Hawaii Society of Long Beach, except Mrs. Howard and myself, have now become resident citizens and registered voters of California. We claim Hawaii as our home and California only our temporary place of residence. Both Mrs. Howard and I still require a cooler climate than Honolulu, but we look longingly forward to the time when we may once again return to Honolulu."

HUSTACE. Miss Annie C. Hustace has changed her street address in Los Angeles. (See roster.)

KITTREDGE. Mrs. Maude (Kittredge) Nichols made a trip out to California, via South America, leaving New York the middle of October, 1928, and reaching San Francisco the last of January, 1929, making several stops en route. Her first California destination was to visit her brother Maurice Kittredge in "his lovely new home in Piedmont," then to run down the coast to see her sister, Rose (Kittredge) Cronise, in Santa Barbara. The expectation was that Rose should accompany her (Maude) on returning to Haverhill, Mass., in June. Rose Cronise writes: "I've promised to return with Maude and spend the summer at her summer place at the Thousand Islands. That will be quite an event for me as it's over twenty years since I've been east. Both our daughters are well. Dorothy, the younger, is at home and attending the State Teachers' College here. Margaret is taking a post graduate year at Berkeley to get her teacher's certificate for high school. 'Maidie' (Mrs. Mary Kittredge Peters), who lives at Amherst, Mass., has two boys away from home now. Andrew in his senior year at Yale and Lovett at Phillips Academy, Andover. Mr. Peters had a nervous breakdown last spring and has been compelled to take a year off from his duties at Amherst College, so, with the two younger children, they are spending this winter in the South, autoing and stopping at attractive places whenever and for as long as inclination dictates."

LEWIS. Rev. J. Morgan Lewis, under date of January 25, 1929, says: "You see by the above letter heading that my address now is Walla Walla, Washington. The Washington State Department transferred me to the same position of Chaplain that I held in the State Reformatory at Monroe, Wash. I hope some day to be able to pay Hawaii a visit and see some of the Mission Children again. I have very pleasant memories of my work at Palama and on the island of Maui." Mr. Lewis was the first mission worker at Palama Chapel, Honolulu, and about 1898 was transferred to Wailuku, Maui. His daughter, Gwyneth, born on Maui, is now Mrs. Ralph J. Cordiner. He has a son, Atherton Cooke Lewis, and a second daughter, Sheila Elizabeth Lewis, also a granddaughter, Jean Marie Cordiner. We are glad to have this data from our cousin, who had not reported for many years.

LOWREY. The name of Helen Virginia Lowrey has been added to our membership list. Helen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan J. Lowrey, of San Francisco, Calif.

MARTIN. Dr. George H. Martin, whose address was restored to us by one of the Cousins last year, wrote the Treasurer under date of August 1st, 1928: "The seventy-sixth annual report of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society has just been received. It is, as usual, full of most interesting news concerning the members at home and abroad. Though it is forty-one years since I left the islands, I have never ceased to think of the happy years of my practice there, from 1882-1887, and of the many dear friends whom I knew. And how many have passed on. Each year the list on this side is growing shorter, and that on the other longer. But each has done his part here and is only called for further service 'over there' I am enclosing a P. O. Order for your expense fund. With aloha nui loa to all, I am, most sincerely yours."

Dr. Martin will be remembered by many of our members who lived in Honolulu in the eighties. His office was on the corner of Fort and Beretania streets, just opposite the old Fort Street Church. We are particularly glad to get in touch again with this cousin, as his address had been lost to the Society for many years, and we began to think we might never locate him.

POND. Eldredge Bowen Pond, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy M. Pond, of Honolulu, left in June of 1928 to enter Chicago University, where he has been studying this year. His address is in our roster. Richard Castle Pond, the younger brother, is at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass.

PRATT. Mrs. Louise Pratt, widow of Amasa Pratt of former Punahou days, is now living with her daughter Edna, in Columbus, Ohio. Her son Lewellyn, who married Helen ("Mudjie") Dickson, is mentioned under the Judd name.

SEARLE. Forty-five years of conscientious Christian service at Kobe College, Japan, is the record made by our adopted cousin, Miss Susan A. Searle. In recognition of this, her seventieth birthday, in October, 1928, was made the occasion of special honors and gifts. Later she received an Imperial testimonial showing national appreciation of her long years of service.

Miss Searle wrote from Kobe, Japan, in March of this year: "Rev. Cyrus A. Clark and my mother were first cousins. When he married Hattie Gulick I felt for the first time that I had some right to be a member of the Cousins' Society, for I had been made a member because of my connection with members of the old Essex St. Church.

"I am retiring from active service. Am expecting to go to America in July next by way of Honolulu and shall hope to see some of my friends there while the steamer is in port. I have several Japanese friends in Honolulu, as well as a number of former missionaries. Mrs. Harada, of the W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Kishimoto of the Y. W. C. A. are graduates of our school, and Dr. Harada taught in the school for a time. I do not yet know where I shall settle in America.

"I feel entirely unworthy of all the gifts and honors of the last few months."

The Hattie Gulick referred to by Miss Searle was the daughter of Luther Halsey Gulick, the first missionary of the Cousins' Society, and the only sister of our Mrs. F. F. Jewett.

SMITH. Elliot M. Smith, the son of our adopted cousin, Mrs. Lucilla Bates Smith, called June 12, 1928, at the Secretary's office. He is a grandson of Judge Bates, for whom Bates Street was named, whose wife was Dr. G. P. Judd's sister. Mr. Smith had visions of seeing the "original Bates home," and got in touch with several members of the Judd family. He is the manager of the Munson School for Private Secretaries in San Francisco, where his mother and sister live.

TUTHILL. Mrs. Beulah (Logan) Tuthill wrote in January of the birth of her grandson, Gilbert Ross, Jr., on October 11, 1928, and made him a life member. The little boy is a great-grandson of Rev. and Mrs. Robert W. Logan, well-known missionaries to Micronesia from 1874 to 1887. The address of Mrs. Ross has been changed. (See roster.)

VAN SLYKE. Rev. Lawrence P. Van Slyke, who for about seven years has been a missionary of the Presbyterian Board in Mexico, is now located among the mountain Mexicans. Owing to unrest, and a feeling on the part of the Christian Mexicans that they were fully able to carry on the mission work themselves, it was thought best by the united Mission Boards represented in that field, that the mission workers resign and leave unless asked by the natives to stay. It is significant that our Cousin Lawrence Van Slyke was asked to stay and continue his work.

It has been a pleasure to welcome back to Honolulu Prof. L. L. Van Slyke, father of our adopted cousin mentioned above. Prof. Van Slyke taught for many years at Punahou, and is well remembered here. He came last December bringing his wife, who has not visited the islands before. We hope they will decide to stay and make their home with us.

WATERHOUSE. Mrs. Ida Waterhouse and daughter, Elnora Sturgeon, accomplished a very successful and interesting six-months' trip to England, Scotland, and Wales, during the summer and early fall of 1928. In Scotland they visited the family of Mrs. Margaret (Waterhouse) Walker's late husband. Margaret Walker, with her children, followed later and is spending the year in Scotland. She has placed the children in school there.

WEINRICH. Mrs. Ada (Whitney) Weinrich and her husband are living in what was the summer home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Whitney, at Pearl City Peninsula. Mr. Weinrich is manager of the Weinrich Fence, Bronze and Iron Works in Honolulu and drives in to the city each day. Their second son, Sidney, entered Washington University, Seattle, Wash., in September, 1928. Cousin Ada is an officer and faithful worker in the Honolulu Women's Christian Temperance Union, of which her mother was the president for many years.

WELLS. Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Wells (nee Mildred Kinney), left Honolulu in June, 1928, to make their home in Berkeley for a year at least. Mr. Wells resigned his position as supervising principal of the public schools of central Maui in May after a service of thirty-four years. Their sons, Herbert and Norman, are both living on the mainland.

IN MEMORIAM

BENJAMIN DOUGLAS BALDWIN was the son of David Dwight and Lois Gregory (Morris) Baldwin and a grandson of Rev. Dwight Baldwin. He was born at Kohala, Hawaii, on April 12, 1867.

His education was obtained at the old Fort Street School and at Punahou. Always as a boy, he was keen for sports. After leaving school he, with his brothers, took a keen interest in baseball and Ben, the star pitcher of the well-nigh invincible teams of those days, was the hero of many a match game.

Ben entered the sugar industry at the age of twenty-two and had the advantage of an early training in the hands of his uncle H. P. Baldwin, who soon recognized his energy, ambition and executive ability. He served in various capacities with the Haiku Sugar Company, making rapid strides forward, first as manager of the Kaluanui section and later as head overseer at Hamakuapoko.

In February, 1901, Ben Baldwin was appointed assistant manager of the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co., at Puunene, Maui, and in 1903 manager of the Hawaiian Sugar Co., at Makaweli, Kauai, which position he held to the time of his death, twenty-five years. These appointments just mentioned, the first after serving eleven years in the industry and the second just two years later, are an indication of the ability he displayed in his chosen field.

Benjamin Douglas Baldwin played a big part in the progress of Kauai during his twenty-five years' residence. The growth and development of the Hawaiian Sugar Company during the years of his management are known to every one who has had any interest in or connection with the sugar industry in these islands. His skill and energy have resulted in placing the Hawaiian Sugar Company among the most successful of the sugar plantations in Hawaii. His attention was not confined to the purely business side of sugar production at Makaweli. He displayed keen interest in the contentment of the employees of the plantation to such a degree that the Hawaiian Sugar Company is today one of the leaders in these islands in recreational facilities and welfare agencies of its employees.

He married Louise Theresa Voss, a sister of Mrs. B. F. Ehlers, on April 11, 1893, in Honolulu. He passed away at the Queen's Hospital, Honolulu, August 27, 1928, after a brief illness, and is survived by his wife and three sons, Douglas, Paul and Cedric. A memorial service was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Waterhouse and his remains were laid at rest in the Nuuanu Cemetery.

His is a loss that cannot easily be replaced for he was the type of builder which constructs a prosperous and livable community, and master builders are far too rare.

M. B. M.

ELIZABETH OR "BUD" BOGARDUS. The daughter of George R. and Helen (Strong) Carter, was born in Honolulu Aug. 25, 1895. Her earthly life ended here Dec. 21, 1928, a brief period of thirty-three years. "But she lives and will live in the memory of all who knew her as a grateful presence."

"On every hand people speak in low tones of her pure loveliness. Among her school girl friends she was a universal favorite. The daughter of former Governor George R. Carter, she was known as 'Bud', signifying an opening flower. After her marriage (in New York on Oct. 20, 1917), to Everardus Bogardus—it was the same. The pretty symbol of nature was fitting, symbolizing her perfectly. Wherever she went she radiated happiness and joy. Having the means to gratify every worldly wish she thought little of ephemeral things. She thought of childhood and unfortunate children. These she sought out and strove to better their condition. The Children's Hospital of Honolulu was her special care. But that was only one of her many charities. No one in need of sympathy or comfort sought her in vain. Honolulu found in 'Bud' Bogardus an inspiration to better things. Her companions adored her. And she will be remembered in many a humble home and deserted corner as an angel of light that came unheralded to comfort and to cheer."

Elizabeth was the founder of the Junior League in Hawaii and a moving spirit in the work of that organization, in which her sister Phoebe (Carter) Dyer and many relatives and friends are greatly interested. Her brother, George Robert Carter, Jr., was travelling in the Orient at the time of Elizabeth's death.

The services were held in the beautiful Nuuanu cemetery, a part now of the former "Sweet Home" premises where Elizabeth's father lived as a boy.

"Bud" Bogardus is gone and the world needed her so much. Her life was rich in sweetness, gentleness, kindness and goodness. And she left an influence that will live and grow as her fitting monument."—From "Advertiser" of Dec. 23, 1928.

ELIZABETH OR "LIZZIE" CAMPBELL. As a child of eight years, Lizzie came to Honolulu with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Campbell and a younger sister, in 1869. She was born in New York City Feb. 24, 1861.

When only nine years old she went to live in the S. M. Damon family where she made her home all the rest of her life. Lizzie attended school at Punahou in the years 1872-1878 and was always much attached to the school which her younger sister, Ida Campbell, attended as a boarder in the days when Mr. Merritt was President.

She was a devoted member of the old Bethel Church and a charter member of the Central Union Church which she loved to the day of her death.

In the early days the Damons were near neighbors on Nuuanu Avenue with the Halls, Judds, Joneses, Carters, Ladds, McIntyres, Waterhouses and Afongs. To all of the children in these families, Lizzie was a dear friend. When the Damons in 1913 moved to their beautiful home in Moanalua valley, Lizzie missed the companionship of these friends of a lifetime. Her heart's devotion was given to the Damon family, to Ed., May, Henry, and Douglas, and later on to the little children of the next generation. They shared the love which she bestowed upon her own nieces and nephews, Florence Burns, Alice Stevenson, Campbell, Elmer and Douglas Crozier.

A beloved sister, Addie Crozier, preceded Lizzie to the Heavenly Home by but two years. (Ida had died many years before.) The last months of Lizzie's life were spent in invalidism and she slipped quietly away on Nov. 17, 1928, at the Queen's Hospital. Many of the former neighbors and friends and all the branches of the Damon family gathered in Nuuanu cemetery the following day to pay their respects to the memory of their dear friend and relative.

"She was a very loving and faithful friend."

A. E. J.

MRS. HELEN CATHERINE (LIGHTBODY) CHAMBERLAIN, widow of the late James Patton Chamberlain, was called Higher on Palm Sunday, March 24, 1929, from Mount Vernon, Oregon, the home of her son John E. Chamberlain.

Although in failing health for some time, Mrs. Chamberlain kept her faculties practically to the last. The end came peacefully, just two days after her eighty-fourth birthday. Her remains lie next to her husband's in the John Day Cemetery, Oregon, a beautiful spot overlooking the surrounding country.

Although born in the State of New York, the family moved west and Helen Lightbody's school-girl days were spent in Fon Du Lac, Wisconsin. The greater part of her after life was also spent in the same State.

She met James P. Chamberlain (third son of Levi and Maria Patton Chamberlain of the Sandwich Islands Mission), while he was doing home missionary work in Stockbridge, Wis. On October 25, 1866, she was married to the young minister at this place. Their two children, John E. and Helen M. Chamberlain, were born there. For about fifteen years Mr. Chamberlain filled pastorates of short duration in the eastern and southern part of Wisconsin. This brought to his wife the experience of packing and moving and the problem of interrupted education for their children. They were finally settled at Trempealeau, Wis., and for nine years this was the home of the family while Mr. Chamberlain was the minister of the Congregational Church at that place.

About 1895, Mr. Chamberlain resigned from his pastorate and joined his son who was homesteading in northeastern Oregon. Mrs. Chamberlain stayed with her mother and sister in Wisconsin until the death of her mother. After that she lived for periods in Mt. Vernon, Oregon, but never felt permanently at home there. Several of her Wisconsin friends moved to California and some of her relatives lived there. Naturally there was an urge in that direction and another urge across the Pacific where her daughter, Mrs. W. O. Aiken, had settled, on the island of Maui. Mrs. Chamberlain became very fond of California and lived in both the southern and central part of the State at intervals. She also made several trips to these islands, the first in 1903, before the birth of her granddaughter, the last in 1925 when she accompanied her granddaughter, Martha Aiken, and remained for Martha's wedding seven months later.

Mrs. Chamberlain's outstanding characteristics were strong willpower, optimism, and an intense loyalty to the cause of Christ.

Besides her son and daughter already mentioned, she leaves three grandchildren, Bertram S. Aiken, Mrs. Ingham C. Baker and Malcolm C. Aiken, and one great-grandson, Walton Aiken Baker.

MRS. S. ISABELLE (FAYERWEATHER) COLCORD, widow of the late Captain Charles A. Colcord, died November 19, 1928, at her home in Danbury, Conn. Burial services were held on the 22nd and the remains laid to rest in the Danbury cemetery.

This is the message that has been received from Cousin Grace A. (Colcord) Appleby, of Staten Island, N. Y.

Mrs. Colcord's husband and his sister, just mentioned, were the son and daughter of Captain Andrew D. Colcord who commanded the third "Morning Star" in these Pacific waters from 1875 to 1878. The name Colcord is therefore very familiar to older members of our Society. Charles A. and Grace A. Colcord became life members of the Cousins' Society in 1876 and have been faithful members.

Mrs. Isabelle F. Colcord was the second wife of Charles A. Colcord, outliving him by fourteen years. She became a member of the Cousins' Society in 1913.

In 1918 Mrs. Colcord wrote to the Society: "I am living in the Danbury, Conn., home and spend long summers at the dear old seaport town, 'Seaport,' Maine, where generations of Colcords lived and died."

CLARENCE HYDE COOKE, JR., died in California on June 23, 1928, while en route to Honolulu after touring the world with his parents and brother Robert.

Clarence was born in Honolulu on May 19, 1906, and spent his boyhood here. He attended Punahou Preparatory and High School. One year of his high school education was had at Ridgefield, Conn.

He was very much interested in sports, especially polo and football. At the Ridgefield School he was a member of the football team, and on his return to Honolulu showed great promise as a polo player while a member of the Oahu Polo Team.

After returning from school in the east, Clarence entered the firm of C. Brewer & Co., Ltd., with which firm he was connected until he left with his parents in January, 1928, on the world tour.

His death was the result of an airplane accident, which took the life of a companion also. At the time of his death he was engaged to be married to Miss Margaret Sloggett, of Kauai.

Services were held at Kawaiahao Church on July 5th, and the ashes interred in the Mission Cemetery amid a profusion of flowers. Reverends Henry P. Judd and Akaiko Akana were in charge of the service.

Clarence was the eldest of four sons of Clarence Hyde and Lily (Love) Cooke, and his death was the first break in a family of eight children.—Contributed.

REV. PHILIP ADAM DELAPORTE, for many years a missionary in the Marshall Islands, of the south Pacific, passed away at Gridley, Ill., September 19, 1928, in his sixty-first year.

From the Missionary Herald we learn that Mr. Delaporte was born at Worms, Germany, in 1867, and that he came to the United States at the age of fourteen and completed his education in California.

Our cousin, Mrs. O. H. Gulick, a personal friend of the family, says: "Mr. Delaporte first went to Micronesia (about 1894) with two other young men as an independent missionary and stayed only two or three years. Of the three, he alone wished to return as a missionary, and after marrying Miss Salome Schaefer, he went to the new station of Nauru in 1899. He was supported first by friends here (Honolulu) and after a few years was appointed a missionary of the American Board, with the understanding that his salary should be raised by Central Union Church and friends in Honolulu. He was at Nauru until 1918, when the World War being ended, England was mandate for Nauru and did not wish a German missionary there."

Mr. Delaporte was a pioneer, a zealous, indefatigable worker for the enlightenment, through the knowledge of God's love, of a people in great darkness. He accomplished the great task of translating the entire Bible into the Nauru language. He also translated a number of hymns and story books.

On returning to America, Mr. Delaporte served as pastor at Gregory, S. D., Cole Camp and Neosha, Mo., and the last two years of his life at Gridley, Ill., where he was much beloved. Rev. A. W. Palmer, for seven years pastor of Central Union Church, assisted at the memorial service at the Gridley Church on September 21st.

Mr. Delaporte left, beside his widow, a family of five children, all of whom, with the exception of the eldest daughter, Augusta, now Mrs. Paul Doescher, were born on the island of Nauru. Frank, the youngest son, died and is buried there.

WILLIAM WHITMORE GOODALE was born in Hawaii of New England parentage. His father, Warren Goodale, took his five young children after their mother's death in 1861, to the home in Marlboro, Mass., where his own boyhood days had been spent. In the house of their forefathers, built in 1702, these children of Hawaiian birth found a happy home in their uncle David's family, under kind and wise influences. From this home Warren Goodale's aunt, Lucy Goodale, had come in 1819 to join the pioneer band of missionaries to the Sandwich Islands with her husband Asa Thurston.

With this inheritance and environment and a fine constitution, William W. Goodale went forth into the world. For some time he followed the sea, and in his strenuous later years sought relaxation and exhilaration in ocean voyages.

While still a very young man he came to Hawaii and engaged in plantation work, after a few years taking the responsible position of manager of the Onomea Plantation until he was offered the charge of Waialua Plantation when it was about to change its character and become a large plantation. He gave his energies to this for twenty-five years, when he retired from plantation life. He devoted himself to the service of the community with the same thoroughness that had characterized his previous labors.

While employed on Maui, in 1884, William W. Goodale married Emma March Whitney, a granddaughter of Samuel Whitney and wife, members of the Pioneer Company of missionaries to Hawaii. Their home was one in which, as in every relation in life with this couple, the highest standards ruled. Looking toward some time of more leisure for travel, much preparatory reading and study was done. Already the realization of this long expectation had given pleasure. Another journey was about to be taken, when this friend so highly esteemed, so capable of enjoyment of all the best in life, was summoned to "a better country, that is an heavenly."

MRS. CHARLOTTE (VETTER) GULICK, widow of the late Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, passed away on July 28, 1928, at the age of sixty-two, at Camp Wohelo, South Casco, Maine.

Mrs. Gulick was born in Oberlin, Ohio, and was the daughter of Rev. John Vetter. After her graduation from Drury College, she spent a year at Wellesley. She was married in 1887 to Luther Halsey (grandson of Rev. and Mrs. Peter J. Gulick), who at that time contemplated work as a medical missionary. In order to aid him in such work, Mrs. Gulick studied medicine for a year after their marriage.

The medical missionary idea was abandoned, however, and Dr. and Mrs. Gulick settled in Springfield, Mass., devoting their time instead to the development of the three-fold training of youth in spirit, mind and body. In a summer camp in Connecticut, established by Mrs. Gulick, were worked out many methods of training youth that were later used by her husband as president of the Playground Association of America and director of Child Hygiene of the Russell Sage Foundation.

The idea of the Campfire Girls movement originated with Mrs. Gulick and the enterprise was launched in 1912. It grew rapidly until in 1928 there were 700,000 members. Mrs. Gulick was the first president of the Association of Directors of Girls' Camps and a director until the time of her death.

In connection with the Campfire Girls, though wholly separate, Mrs. Gulick realized her ideals for this work at Camp Wohelo, a name coined by her to combine the three words used as cardinal principles of Campfire, work, health, love. After the death of her husband, Camp Wohelo became the Luther Gulick Camps' memorial to him. It was there that Mrs. Gulick laid down her task to receive the reward of "well done." We understand that her mantle has fallen on her son, J. Halsey Gulick, who will carry on the Luther Gulick Camps.

A service was held for her at her beloved Camp Wohelo and another at Springfield, Mass., where burial took place in the family plot, beside her husband's grave. There are also the graves of their two children who were called in infancy.

Mrs. Gulick is survived by three daughters and one son, Louise (Mrs. Horace Robinson), Frances, Katherine (Mrs. Curtis), and Halsey.

MRS. FRANCES AMELIA (STEVENS) GULICK was called from this life on April 29, 1928, after a brief illness, leaving an invalided sister in the home they had been sharing for a number of years at Manoa Valley, Honolulu. Although latterly Mrs. Gulick had not been over strong, she did not impress us as almost four score years; her figure was erect, her step firm and her eyesight good.

Mrs. Gulick was born in Akron, Ohio, June 28, 1848, but spent most of her girlhood in western Wisconsin, where her father was a Congregational home missionary. She earned, through school teaching, sufficient to carry her through Oberlin College, from which college she graduated with a degree in 1875. Her purpose was service in a mission field. Before graduation she applied to the American Board for a mission appointment, was assigned to Japan, and a few months later found herself in Osaka. There, three years later, she became one of the co-founders of the Baikwa Girls' School. She was very active also in house-to-house mission work among married Japanese women.

In 1880 Miss Stevens became the second wife of John T. Gulick, who had been transferred to Japan from the North China Mission in 1875. Their only children, Addison and Louise, were born in Osaka. With the exception of a year at Kobe, the Gulicks were permanently located at Osaka until their retirement from the Mission in 1899. During this period of almost twenty years, Mrs. Gulick continued her work of personal evangelism with the women of Japan. This carried her into the homes of the rich and the poor, the educated and illiterate, on foot and by jinrikisha, through the narrow, crooked streets. The six years following their retirement from mission work were spent at Oberlin, Ohio, where their son and daughter were receiving college education.

In 1906 Mr. and Mrs. Gulick settled in Honolulu, near other members of the Gulick family. Here Mrs. Gulick identified herself with Central Union Church and its related missionary enterprises, giving faithful service as far as the health of other members of her family permitted.

She nursed her husband through five years of failing health. After his death in 1923 she made an extended visit to her son, Professor Addison Gulick, of the University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo. Her great happiness in 1927 was the visit with her daughter, Mrs. R. B. Whitaker, and family, of Lintsing, China, first in Honolulu, and continued in California. Mrs. Gulick devoted the last year of her life to the care of her sister, Dr. Sara E. Stevens.

Besides her son, daughter, sister, and seven grandchildren, Mrs. Gulick leaves the memory of a well-spent, consecrated, unselfish life.

Following a service at Central Union Church, the ashes were interred in her husband's grave, Mission Cemetery, Honolulu.

ASA THURSTON HEYDON was the son of Edwin A. and Mary (Thurston) Heydon, and a grandson of Asa and Lucy G. Thurston. He was born April 12, 1862, in Albion, Ill., and was a member of the Cousins' Society all his life.

The following has been contributed: "Asa Thurston Heydon passed the greater part of his life in research work. He gave up almost everything else in order to discover the secret of utilizing the power in vibrations, as other people have utilized the power of electricity and other natural forces.

"For more than thirty years while working out his theories, in the wilderness of the Yukon Territory, he often delayed his special work as a mining engineer, in order to care for the sick and suffering in those desolate places. He did wonderful saving work for those injured by serious accidents. He was known among his friends as one greatly beloved and as one whose highest joy was to be of true service to his fellowmen. Often he remained at the bedside of those given up by physicians, until his faithful and untiring efforts saved the lives of the sufferers.

"He never recovered his great strength after his last accident in the mines, when his back was broken by a large rock which had fallen ninety feet.

"His only recreation during those long years in that lonely wilderness seems to have been making pen-and-ink sketches of that wonderful scenery. They are large and most beautiful, especially the snow scenes and of the aurora borealis. Many of them are made almost entirely of tiny dots, with the point of a pen, and are exquisitely lovely and soft and real. He also found diversion in sometimes writing simple tales of that Northern Land, often in their own dialect." C. B. S.

After leaving the Yukon country, Cousin Asa passed through Honolulu a few times on his way to and from the Orient, and then settled here for the rest of his life, gathering friends about him whom he felt he could help. He joined Central Union Church and was a helpful member of the Men's Bible Class.

He passed away in Honolulu on July 2, 1928.

MRS. MARY (COSSITT) LYMAN died October 16, 1928, shortly after her 82nd birthday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary (Lyman) Baker, Peoria, Ill.

An earnest Christian woman, sharing her husband's aspirations for uplift, outlook and brotherhood, she gave herself to the work that offered, continuing steadfast until declining years and failing health laid her aside. She fell in her room a few days after the marriage of her grandson, Lyman Baker, breaking her hip. "She suffered much, but the end was peaceful and beautiful."

Mrs. Lyman was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Cossitt, and was born at LaGrange, Tenn. In after years the Cossitt family moved to Chicago and there, in 1870, Mary was married to David Brainerd Lyman, fourth son of Rev. David B. and Mrs. Sarah Joiner Lyman, of the fifth company of missionaries to these islands.

After the great Chicago fire of 1872, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman moved to and became pioneer residents of the suburb of Chicago which was later named LaGrange. For many years Mrs. Lyman was a leader in the cultural and religious life of the growing village. With her husband, she was one of the organizers of Emmanuel Church (Episcopalian), and services were held in their home until the first church building in the community was erected. Aside from their church work, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman probably did more than any other two persons to secure a high school for Lyons township and have it located on what was then the edge of LaGrange.

Mrs. Lyman was one of the charter members of the LaGrange Woman's Club, and active in all movements for the betterment of the village. She was one of the oldest members of the Fortnightly Club of Chicago, and for several years served as President of the Women's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church Diocese of the same city.

Even after her husband's sudden death in 1914, Mrs. Lyman continued to live in LaGrange, but finally, after several years, she went to Peoria and made her home with her daughter.

Of their four children, only two are living, Mrs. Murray M. Baker, of Peoria, and David B. Lyman, Jr., of Stockton, California.

ALFRED HOLLY SMITH was born at Koloa, Kauai, February 11, 1853. He was the third son of Dr. James W. and Melicent K.

Smith, who came to these islands in 1842 with the tenth company of missionaries.

Alfred received his early education from Rev. Daniel Dole, who, after leaving Punahou School in 1855, moved to Koloa, Kauai, and established a small school there.

At the age of fifteen Alfred entered Punahou and continued there four years, leaving in 1872. He then went to New York and took a course in the Packard Commercial School, from which he graduated. His brother Jared was at the same time in New York City as interne in a hospital.

On returning to the islands he became assistant manager of Grove Ranch, Makawao, Maui, and later the manager.

His next move was to California, where he lived several years. While making his home in California he went east to marry Miss Edith Whittaker. The wedding took place in Brooklyn, N. Y., on April 25, 1888.

He returned with his wife to Los Angeles, California, and lived there until after the birth of their first child, Raymond Whittaker, in 1889.

"Fred" Smith then brought his family to the Islands and after a year or two he became manager of Grove Farm, Lihue, Kauai, a cane-growing company. Their second child, Alice Winona, was born during the ten years they were at Lihue.

In 1912 Mr. and Mrs. Smith were asked to assume the management of Lunalilo Home for aged Hawaiians. He continued in that position for sixteen years, retiring in 1927, when the location of the Home was changed to the new site near Koko Head.

For many years Mr. Smith was in failing health. He died May 27, 1928, at his home on Pensacola Street, Honolulu. After a service here the ashes were taken to Kauai and buried in the family plot, Koloa.

The passing of WILLIAM OWEN SMITH on April 13, this year, has been likened to the falling of a mighty tree. Like one of our sturdy Island trees was he; firmly rooted and grounded in the "faith of our fathers," looking up into the eternal blue for strength, and stretching out the friendly shade of sympathy and encouragement. The tree has fallen, but the seeds of kindness sown will go on growing in an ever-widening sphere.

Our Cousin played a large part in the history of these Islands, but he did it so quietly, so modestly during all these fifty years and more, that we failed to realize just how much his life meant to the community at the time. We all knew that whatever place he was called to fill, he would do it conscientiously, conservatively and efficiently. He was trusted implicitly.

William Owen Smith was the oldest son of James W. and Melicent (Knapp) Smith, missionaries stationed at Koloa, Kauai. He was born August 4, 1848. He attended the school of Rev. Daniel Dole at Koloa, also Punahou School and the Massachusetts Agricultural College. He studied law with Judge Alfred S. Hartwell in Honolulu.

He served as sheriff, as a member of the legislature many times, attorney-general, president of the Board of Health, and as ambassador to Washington, D. C., in connection with the annexation of these islands. He made an intensive study of the sugar industry, was secretary and treasurer of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, trustee of several estates, of Punahou and Kamehameha Schools, and director of various corporations. To a large legal practice, he added the care of trust funds and developed it into the Guardian Trust Co.

His church affiliations were of no uncertain character. He was a charter member of Central Union Church, an organizer and second president of the initial Christian Endeavor Society in these islands, that of his church. For long years he was identified with the Kawaiahao Church as the president of its Board of Trustees, and was deeply interested in the welfare of all the Hawaiian churches in these islands, particularly that of his native town, the Koloa Church, Kauai. Closely associated with his church interests was his support of and loyalty to the Hawaiian Board.

With all this, "W. O." was never too busy to turn aside and do some kindness to the widow and fatherless, the sick and the shut-in. Later years brought to him failing eyesight and hearing, but he was spared any long illness. The call came in the guise of pneumonia. One short week and he had answered it.

Countless floral expressions spoke the sincere aloha of his many friends as they gathered at the Smith home on Nuuanu Ave. for a simple, appropriate service the following day. This was in charge of Rev. P. A. Swartz, of Central Union Church, and was followed by interment in Nuuanu Cemetery.

Mr. Smith is survived by his wife, Mrs. Minnie (Hobron) Smith; his two daughters, Ethel, Mrs. Harry A. Baldwin, and Kathrine, Mrs. Samuel A. Baldwin; his two sons, Clarence H. and Lorrin K. Smith; twelve grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Also by his sister, Mrs. William Waterhouse, of Koloa, Kauai, and members of her family.

CAROLINE SNOW, only daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin G. Snow, was born at Kusaie, Caroline Islands, December 22, 1857. When about twelve years old Caroline went with her mother and brother Fred to Maine, by way of San Francisco, the Isthmus of Panama, and New York. Two years were spent in Maine while Mrs. Snow visited relatives. After that Caroline and her brother were left at Auburndale, Mass., as the first of the many children who lived at the "Missionary Home." There she attended school and also did much work in the Home, more, really, than she had strength for. She was also a Wellesley student.

She cared for her mother during the last three years of her life, which were years of illness. Mrs. Snow passed away in 1887. In 1892 Caroline came to Honolulu, where her brother was living, and made her home in these islands for the rest of her life, with the exception of two trips to Europe and several to the mainland.

She taught for a while for Mr. Frank Damon in the Mills School, Honolulu, and later in the Chinese Kindergarten. With little children she was an unusually successful teacher.

M. H. S.

For many years she was a sufferer from rheumatism, but of a strongly religious nature, she bore her trials with Christian fortitude and cheerfulness. In December, 1927, she left Honolulu for a change of climate in Redlands, Calif. This gradually proved beneficial. Happy in anticipation of the Christmas season, she addressed her cards of greeting. But before they had been mailed, her Heavenly Father called her to spend Christmas in His home. In the early morn of December 11th, these words were fulfilled:

"May'st thou on life's last morrow,
Free from sorrow,
Pass away in slumber sweet."

Her ashes were laid to rest in her brother's grave, Homelani Cemetery, Hilo, on January 26th, 1929.

MISS SUSAN E. PINDER, the sister of the late well-known Mrs. John T. Waterhouse, came to Honolulu from England after the death of her mother, and made her home here for forty-five years.

Like her sister, Miss Pinder was always interested in Sunday School work and was a faithful teacher of the children of Central Union Church for many years.

She was never robust in health and did not participate in many activities, with the exception of the Hospital Flower Society. The distribution of flowers to the sick in the hospital was something she had strength for and that made her very happy.

Of an unobtrusive, sympathetic nature, she lived a quiet, trustful life, which reached five years beyond her sister's, with whom she lived so long, here in Honolulu.

Her last few years were those of special dependency, and her homegoing was a blessed release. She passed to the Other Side on August 3, 1928, in her 81st year.

We also wish to pay tribute here to the memory of the following who have passed on during the year, not members of the Society, but within the Cousinly circle:

Mrs. Clara (Johnson) Bindt, Mrs. Emma (Brickwood) Buchanan, (mother of Mrs. Samuel G. Wight), Mr. John F. Doyle, Mrs. George D. Holmes, and Mr. Charles H. Kluegel.

HARRIET G. FORBES,
Secretary.

LIFE MEMBERS OF THE HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY, 1928-1929

Symbols in the List of Members

Original members of the Society, whether children of missionaries or elect members, have their names printed in the usual manner. The names of their children are preceded by one star, and those of children's children by two stars.

In many cases the name is preceded by a symbol in the margin, which denotes the person's missionary parentage or ancestry and the key to the symbols is the list below, in which the missionary names are given, but no titles.

☞ Where the residence of a husband is given, that of the wife, in the next line, is the same.

If our members who change their addresses will notify us promptly, it will save us much trouble and extra postage. We do want to keep in touch with you, but many reports and letters come back to us marked "Moved, Left No Address," etc. Then we have to start out on a search party for the new address. Sometimes we can trace it, sometimes not. The result is a loss, to you and us.
